BOMB BLASTS EMBASSY . . .

U.S.A. Rejects Soviet Charge

© New York Times Service

Washington — A bomb explosion tore into a ground-floor office of the Soviet Embassy before dawn Wednesday in what a U.S. spokesman called a "senseless act of terrorism."

The Soviet Union promptly delivered strong protests in Washington and Moscow, charging that police protection for the embassy was inadequate. The U.S. rejected the charge.

President Johnson ordered Washington police and the FBI to conduct a "vigorous investigation" of the attack. White House press secretary George Christian said the President "is relieved that no one was injured, even though considerable damage was done."

Rusk Phones Regrets

Secretary of State Dean Rusk telephoned his request to Soviet Ambassador Anatoaly F. Dobrynin. The ambassador was said to have been sleeping in his suite on the third floor of the 58-year-old townhouse when the blast occurred.

U.S. officials said this was the first bombing attack on the Soviet Embassy since diplomatic relations were established in 1933.

There have been periodic demonstrations and harassments at Soviet government buildings in the U.S., and dynamite explosions have occured occasionally at other embassies—most recently, in January, 1967, at Yugoslav embassies and consulates in Washington, New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

Near Entrance

The bomb — its nature and origin so far not ascertained — was apparently placed on the window sill a few feet to the left of the embassy's main entrance. Blocks of stone were blown from the sill and the wrought iron grillwork covering the window was twisted and torn.

Inside, one office was filled with debris and a reception room sustained lesser damage from the blast, which also shattered windows in four office buildings nearby.

The embassy, built as a townhouse for Mrs. George C. Pullman, heiress to the Pullman sleeping car fortune, is located four blocks north of the White House.

A few hours after the explosion the Soviet foreign ministry delivered a note to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow saying, according to Tass, the official press agency:

"The criminal act against the Soviet Embassy took place only because the American authorities ignored their rudimentary duty of insuring the inviolability and security of the U.S.S.R. diplomatic mission."

Christian labeled "utterly ridiculous" an earlier Tass statement that the attack "could have been committed only with the connivance of the American authorities."

Bandit Orders DC8 To Cuba

. . . PLANE RETURNS

Miami, Fla. (AP)—A Delta Air Lines jet with 109 persons aboard was hijacked over Florida's Lake Okeechobee Wednesday and the pilot forced at gunpoint by a man in a white cowboy suit to land in Cuba.

Almost five hours later the jet and its occupants were allowed to return safely to Miami, leaving the hijacker behind in Cuba where he was hustled off the plane by Cuban soldiers with automatic weapons.

Customs and FBI agents boarded the plane as it stopped at Miami airport. Officials said it was understood passengers didn't leave the plane in Cuba.

After five minutes passengers and crew, all neat, smiling and calm-looking, walked through a glassed-off quarantine corridor to the customs office.

Seven minutes after the DC8 jet left Tampa airport a passenger with a gun forced his way into the cockpit using stewardess Joy Bliel of Elmwood Park, Ill., as a hostage, an airline spokesman said.

"I don't know why he did this, but I can still feel that cold thing below my ear," the stewardess told a newsman at Havana airport.

'He Didn't Care'

"He told us he didn't care who he killed or how badly he shot up the plane," Mrs. Bleil, 28, said in Miami. "He said he was facing a death sentence for the hijacking anyway."

She said the man asked for a "screwdriver" — vodka and orange juice, but she didn't have the ingredients and brought him a soft drink instead.

He told several persons he was from South America but apparently spoke without an accent.

Wednesday afternoon, as pilot J. D. Gainey was guiding Flight 843 downward for a landing at West Palm Beach, Gainey radioed the Federal Aviation Administration at Miami and said:

"I have someone here who wants to go to Havana."

Fighters Scrambled

Eight minutes later, two jets, armed with Sidewinder air-to-air missiles, were scrambled from Homestead Air Force Base. They followed the passenger jet, but the Air Force said the military aircraft made no attempt to force the jet down or turn it back. The military jets turned back at the 24th Parallel between Key West and Havana, the Air Force said.

A Delta spokesman in Atlanta said the U.S. State Department asked the Swiss Embassy in Havana to arrange the release of the $8 million plane with its 102 passengers and crew of seven.

A passenger, Jack Estabrook of Lake Oswego, Ore., said Cuban soldiers escorted the hijacker off the plane in Havana before passengers were permitted to leave.

Not Roughed Up

"As they took him off, he wasn't getting roughed around," said the 210-pound Estabrook. "And it was a damn good thing we didn't get our hands on him or he would have gotten roughed around."

Gls, Guerrillas Clash Outside Saigon

. . . REDS BELIEVED GATHERING TO ATTACK CAPITAL AGAIN

Saigon (AP) — Battles flared south, west and northwest of Saigon Wednesday as screening U.S. troops clashed with guerrillas believed to be gathering for another attack on the South Vietnamese capital.

In the biggest engagement, armored cavalry troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division stormed through the rice paddies seven miles west of the city and claimed to have killed 128 guerrillas in a four-hour fight. American casualties were three killed and 21 wounded.

Three hours later, allied pilots trying to find the fleeing enemy spotted 50 to 60 Viet Cong in an open field and summoned helicopter gunships. The gunships caught the guerrillas before they could reach a protective tree line and reported killing 37.

The other battles occurred after dark and there was no immediate report on enemy casualties.

Nine Miles South

In one, a company of U.S. 9th Division infantrymen lost two men killed and 11 wounded when they engaged about 150 Viet Cong nine miles south of the capital. The battle broke out after dusk, a U.S. command spokesman said, and the American troops quickly called in artillery and fighter-bombers to pound the enemy.

Just before midnight, Viet Cong gunners mortared the field position of soldiers of the 25th Infantry Division and then followed through with a ground attack.

The Americans, bivouacked six miles northwest of Saigon near the embattled town of Hoc Mon, were reinforced by tanks and armored personnel carriers and 1½ hours later the guerrillas broke contact and faded away. Nine American soldiers were wounded.

Little Reassurance

The sights and sounds of air strikes and artillery bombardments against Viet Cong forces still circling the capital gave little reassurance to the city's residents, many of whom expect the guerrillas to strike again.

Thousands of American troops have been withdrawn from their regular areas of operation to sweep around Saigon and spoil any efforts by the Communist forces to regroup.

Vietnamese troops have the job of drawing the first defense line along the capital's border. They have had a string of battles in the suburbs with enemy troops apparently seeking to pull out after the huge Jan. 30-31 attack that had some 4,500 guerrillas rampaging through the capital.

Village Assaulted

Just three miles north of embattled Hue, U.S. air cavalrymen lost four killed and 77 wounded Wednesday when they assaulted a fortified village believed to be a prime link in the Communist supply chain to enemy troops still fighting in Hue's walled citadel.

Forty-one enemy soldiers were killed in the day-long fight.

U.S. and Vietnamese marines fighting inside the citadel still could report only slow progress. Wednesday Marine fighter-bombers darted through clouds and hit enemy positions with bombs, napalm and rockets. It was the first time in five days allied warplanes had been able to penetrate the weather.

They concentrated on a strip 150 yards wide between the Citadel's south wall and the Perfume River, where North Vietnamese mortarmen and machine gunners have dug in to harass allied supply crossing the river.

Minutes after the planes left, the enemy gunners blasted a U.S. Navy landing craft carrying a cargo of fuel. The vessel exploded. The four crew jumped overboard and were rescued.

Motor Vehicle Tax Refunds Sought By 2 Leasing Firms

. . . ASK COUNTY FOR OVER $10,000

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Written demands for repayment of more than $10,000 in 1967 motor vehicle taxes were filed with Lancaster County Treasurer C. E. Berg Wednesday by two Misle Chevrolet car leasing corporations.

According to the demands filed by Novo Leasing Downtown, Inc., and Novo Leasing Co., Inc., the assessed valuation of each automobile is "unjust and inequitable."

According to the claims, the taxes which the leasing firms have paid on the vehicles are invalid because the levy of such taxes or some of them was "unauthorized by law."

They further contend the amounts of taxes levied were in excess to actual requirements of the City of Lincoln, Salt Valley Watershed District, School District No. 1, and the county.

Because the amounts allegedly exceed the need, the firms contend the amounts are "unreasonable" and were "arbitrarily determined."

The claimants further charged in the written demands that there is lack of uniformity as to taxation of similar automobiles within the county.

Novo Leasing Co. Inc. seeks refund of $9,048.74 on 75 automobiles and Novo Leasing Downtown Inc. seeks $1,052.48 in tax refund on six vehicles.

According to Berg, this is the first time, in the 40 years he has been in the treasurer's office, that a claim for refund of motor vehicle taxes has been filed.

He said personal tax refund claims have been filed at various times but never one for motor vehicle taxes specifically.

LT&T Has Filed

In December, 1967, the county's largest taxpayer, the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., filed a claim for refund of the "illegally collected portion" of the $482,036.66 paid to the county Nov. 30 for the first half of its 1967 personal property taxes.

In its letter, the telephone firm contended that the tax which totals $964,073.33 for the entire year, is "improper, invalid, unauthorized by law and illegal" as "purportedly assessed."

U.S. Abandons Efforts To Refloat Grounded Ship

Rhodes, Greece (AP) — The U.S. 6th Fleet destroyer Bache, grounded on this southern Aegean Sea island, is breaking up and attempts to refloat her have been abandoned, a U.S. spokesman said Wednesday.

The ship has been battered by high winds and raging seas for the past three days.

Northwest Hit By Snowfall

Light to moderate snowfall continued Wednesday in a band from Mullen to Valentine and the U.S. Weather Bureau indicated that the snow would continue over the state Thursday and Friday.

A Highway Patrol spokesman said early Wednesday evening that U.S. 30 and U.S. 80 around North Platte were snowpacked and roads around Imperial and McCook were slushy.

Highways in the Broken Bow, Ord, Grand Island, Nelson and York areas were slippery and snowpacked in some sheltered areas, the official said.

In the Chadron, Ainsworth, Scottsbluff and Ogallala areas, roads were reported to be normal.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted mostly cloudy skies Thursday and Friday with snow spreading eastward over most of the state Thursday and continuing Friday. Little snow is expected in northeast portions of the state.

U.S. Said Weakened

Eau Claire, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., cut at the administration's handling of American affairs from Vietnam to the nation's farmland and charged that President Johnson's is weakening the structures of government.

'Appropriate Patriotic Exercises' Expected On Washington's Birthday

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

"Appropriate patriotic exercises" will be held at each Lincoln school in observance of George Washington's birthday Thursday if all teachers and principals comply with a Nebraska statute on Americanism in public and private schools.

The law states that "appropriate patriotic exercises suitable to the occasion shall be held . . . on Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday, Flag Day, Memorial Day and Veteran's Day. . ."

And the board of Education, the Department of Education, the county superintendent and the individual school superintendents are "held directly responsible" for carrying out the regulation.

Encouraged

Lincoln Public school administrators and board members probably will not check on the individual school exercises. But written school policies encourage observance of the holiday, reported Asst. Supt. Dr. R. L. Fredstrom.

According to the statute, every school board is supposed to appoint a committee on Americanism with duties of reviewing American history and civil government textbooks and assuring themselves of the "character of all teachers employed and their knowledge and acceptance of the American form of government."

The Lincoln school board does not have a specific committee on Americanism from its membership, and apparently has not had one for many years.

No Committee

Millard Lefler, who served as Lincoln superintendent for 28 years from 1920-1948, could not recall that boards during his tenure appointed a standing committee on Americanism.

"We function on these matters as a committee of the whole," declared President Ed Copple. All of the board members are furnished history and civic textbooks recommended for use in the schools.

"The board members actually read them and comment on them to me," Fredstrom pointed out.

Delegated Power

Copple indicated that the personnel director is delegated the responsibility of determining the character of teachers whom the board hires.

Lefler also indicated that matters of textbooks and character or teachers were "always matters of continued concern" of school boards during his superintendency.

The Nebraska law also insists that "every pupil shall memorize the 'Star Spangled Banner' and 'America.'

'Don't Test Them'

"Certainly the songs are sung in the schools," elementary curriculum coordinator Jack Ernst declared, "but we don't give the children a test to find out if they did" memorize them.

Developing reverence for the flag and instruction in the proper conduct of its presentation would be done in opening exercises each day as recommended in school policies, Ernst said.

He said that the specific course requirements, number of periods each is to be taught and curriculum content outlined in the state law are met in the public school offerings.

Normal Board Okays 7% Average Pay Hike

The State Normal Board Wednesday authorized a 7% average salary increase for faculty at the four state colleges.

The pay hike, which would go into effect in July, is in line with the recommendations of the 1967 Legislature's Budget Committee.

The board said the average salary for faculty members at Peru, Wayne, Chadron and Kearney would move from $9,085 to $9,810 a year.

Plan Review

The board will review each college's proposed salary adjustments at its March 15 meeting at Chadron State College.

Individual colleges may raise and lower faculty salaries so long as the new wages are within the fund limitations set by the Legislature.

Nix Request

In other action, the board turned down a request by Dr. T. H. McDonald, history professor at Wayne State College, for a hearing over a dispute on whether his teaching contract would be renewed.

McDonald has been notified by Wayne State President William Brandenburg last Dec. 21 that his contract would not be renewed for the 1968-69 school year.

Board members said Brandenburg will offer McDonald a one-year extension to avoid conflict with board policy requiring notification by Dec. 15.

The board said Brandenburg's action was proper and there is no need for a hearing.

Burton, Liz Have Floating Doghouse

© New York Times Service

London — London's newest attraction is a 120-foot yacht in the Thames near the Tower of London. It has been chartered by film stars Richard Burton and his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, at a reported $2,400 a week to keep their four dogs from British quarantine.

Crowds gather at tower pier to gaze at the 200-ton white yacht sometimes called a "floating doghouse." Port of London police visit the yacht periodically to make sure that no paws have touched British soil. A member of Parliament has asked whether public funds are being used to police the area.

Moreover, the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has asked the age-old question: can two Pekingese and two Tibetan Lhasa Apsos find happiness aboard a luxury yacht in the shadow of Tower Bridge?

The society got one answer from Burton's aides who said "the dogs are being treated like kings." And it got another when it sent an inspector for a dockside visit. He reported back that all was indeed well; the dogs are in "tip-top condition and have room to romp."

The British are a nation of pet-lovers — there are some 4.5 million dogs and 5 million cats in Britain — and they sympathize with the Burtons' desire to remain close to the canines they love.

But rules are rules and since 1897 there have been restrictions on importing dogs.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton, who had been staying at a London hotel, have moved to the yacht to be with their dogs.

Air Strikes Resumed Against Enemy In Hue

(C) New York Times News Service

Da Nang, South Vietnam—American jet bombers blasted enemy forces outside the South citadel wall in Hue with rockets, bombs and napalm, following a five-day pause in air strikes because of bad weather. In ground fighting inside the city American Marines penned the Communist defenders into a 150-yard strip with their backs to the southern wall. (More on Page 1)

Attack Still Awaited

Saigon — U.S. Marines at Khe Sanh continue to wait for a possible attack from an estimated 20,000 North Vietnamese regulars. There is growing evidence that the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division, recently ordered into the north, is not prepared as a reaction force if Khe Sanh were attacked.

Open Housing Stays In

Washington—A joint leadership move to kill open housing legislation was rejected in the Senate by a vote of 58 to 34, causing jubilation among a Democratic-Republican coalition of civil rights backers. (More on Page 2)

200 Said On Hunger Strike

Moscow — In the Soviet Union, political prisoners in two labor camps and one prison were reported to have begun a hunger strike last week to support demands for better conditions. Yuli M. Daniel, the writer, was said to be among the strikers, whose number was put at 200.

Fulbright Accuses McNamara

Washington—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, charged Defense Secretary Robert S. U.S. Seeks Explanation Of Arrest Of 3 Viets

World News

Saigon (AP) — The United States was reported seeking an explanation Wednesday for the arrest of three prominent antigovernment politicians, all rounded up at a time when opposition elements were talking of unity against the Communists.

The official word was that the U.S. Embassy was in consultation with the government about the three, held in what national police called protective custody. Embassy officials were known to be seriously concerned about the impression the arrests might have on the government's image abroad.

High Vietnamese sources let it be known that a captured Viet Cong list named South Vietnamese personalities who might figure in a coalition government. President Nguyen Van Thieu's government has gone firmly on record against a coalition with the Communists. The implication was that other political figures might be detained.

'Maybe on List'

However, Nguyen Ngoc Linh, director general of information, without directly saying the Viet Cong considered the three to be prospects for either assassination or coalition government jobs, suggested: "Maybe they got their names on some list."

"You know the Viet Cong could jump on those guys and kill them and blame the government," Linh said.

Potentially the most troublesome for the government was the arrest on a Saigon street Wednesday of Thich (Venerable) Tri Quang. He heads militant Buddhists who have opposed the government with street demonstrations and uprisings several times in the past.

Also arrested were Truong Dinh Dzu, a lawyer whose peace ticket came in second last September in the presidential election. Thieu won, and former Economics Minister Au Truong Thanh. Both were picked up at their homes Tuesday.

Thanh tried to run in the presidential election on a peace platform, but the national assembly eliminated his ticket for "pro-Communist and proneutralist tendencies."

More Expected

Dzu's wife said after a visit with her husband at national police headquarters that he had been told more "intellectuals" would be detained by police.

There were unconfirmed reports five other Buddhist monks and a former minister in the regime of the late Ngo Dinh Diem had been taken to police headquarters.

The arrests occurred just after a government-backed People's Congress for National Salvation announced in Saigon that it had successfully united several organizations and personalities — including antigovernment figures — into an anti-Communist front.

With news of the arrests spreading, there appeared to be a strong possibility that some elements of the front would withdraw.

That the government would take such strong measures in fear of a possible coalition that would include Communist officials comes as no surprise. The Viet Cong have proclaimed that any such grouping would follow lines laid down by their National Liberation Front.

'Van Minh' Comments

One of the most knowledgeable of the columnists in Saigon's English-language newspapers, who goes under the pen name Van Minh, commented on the fear.

Van Minh's topic in the Saigon Daily News was an editorial in a Vietnamese-language newspaper which wondered why the Communist offensive seemed aimed more at South Vietnam's armed forces and installations than at the Americans.

He said the editorial "highlighted the current wild rumors that the United States actually acted in collusion with the Viet Cong in order to force the Saigon government to accept unfavorable peace negotiations and a coalition government."

Viet Cong radio propagandists broadcast stories to this effect in the early days of the offensive and started rumors so strong that U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker took the unusual move of denying them.

LBJ, Thant Talk; No Progress Seen

Washington (AP) — President Johnson and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant talked about Vietnam Wednesday without evidencing any progress toward negotiations to end the war.

Thant received red carpet treatment for the one-hour White House session, which he termed useful. A presidential spokesman described it as friendly.

The U.N. leader reported on his just-concluded trip to India, Russia, Britain and France in search of a formula to get peace talks going. He met with North Vietnamese diplomats in New Delhi and Paris as well as with the leaders of the countries he visited.

Administration sources here said Thant was apparently not encouraged by what he found. The secretary-general was understood to have uncovered no particular shift in Hanoi's position — that the United States must unconditionally halt its bombing in order to get North Vietnam to the conference table.

Johnson did not shift his stance either, according to a the White House upon U Thant's departure.

"The President reaffirmed our continuing desire to achieve a peaceful settlement and the continued validity of the San Antonio formula," the White House communique said.

In Speech

In a San Antonio speech last September, Johnson offered to stop the air attacks provided this would promptly lead to productive discussions and North Vietnam would not make advantage of the bombing suspension.

Thant has long advocated a stop to the U.S. bombing as a way to get peace talks going. Presumably he did so again in his private meeting with the President.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk gave a luncheon for U Thant at the State Department immediately after the White House gathering.

Presidential press secretary George Christian said Johnson and Thant spent most of the time alone. They were joined briefly afterwards by U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche and several U.S. officials.

U.S. participants at the White House and State Department discussions also included the ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg; the incoming secretary of defense, Clark M. Clifford; the President's national security affairs adviser, Walt Rostow; and Joseph Sisco, assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs.

Open Housing Not Dumped

Washington (AP) — Administration leaders were balked Wednesday in a move to jettison an open housing clause from President Johnson's civil rights bill.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., offered the motion to dump the housing amendment, saying it is "unrealistic" to hope for passage of the civil rights bill as long as it contains the amendment.

His motion was voted down 58 to 34.

Nebraska's Republican senators, Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska, voted to table the amendment.

The bill now faces the formidable hurdle of another effort to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule.

If this fails again next Monday, as it did Tuesday, Mansfield said he will let the bill lie where it falls and go on to other business.

Opponents have blocked action on the measure since it was taken up on Jan. 15, by refusing to stop talking about it.

Mansfield told the Senate it was with great reluctance that he moved to kill the housing provision because he said he "strongly favors the freedom of choice concept for all Americans in housing."

To try to preserve the open housing feature, he said, would "destroy the chance Congress has for making any progress in the field of civil rights during this session."

Sponsors of the proposal to outlaw discrimination in the sale or rental of housing, which also is part of Johnson's civil rights program, resisted the move to kill their rider.

The open housing proponents, Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said they will trim the measure's scope before Monday's test in an effort to make it more acceptable.

Confidence Vote Delayed

Ottawa (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson brought his government's future to the floor of the House of Commons Wednesday, but a confidence vote needed to save it was temporarily headed off after catcalls and howls of laughter from the opposition drowned out the 70-year-old leader.

Opposition party members turned down a move by Pearson for an immediate confidence ballot. Without unanimous consent, Commons could not begin debate on the confidence issue before Friday.

Union To Raise Funds To Help Re-Elect LBJ

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders planned Wednesday to raise a political war chest of $2 million or more to help re-elect President Johnson and friends of labor in Congress.

George Meany, president of the 14-million-member labor federation, told a meeting of AFL-CIO political strategists that the outcome of the November presidential election is crucial to organized labor.

"It is quite clearly a choice between liberalism and conservatism," Meany told officials of the Committee on Political Education (COPE), the AFL-CIO's political arm.

Compares LBJ, FDR

He compared Johnson favorably with the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, under whom most of today's protective labor laws were first enacted.

Meany said Johnson's four-year record is equal to or better than the first four years of Roosevelt in the 1932-36 depression era.

"Frankly, I consider it even better for us," Meany said of Johnson's performance.

The labor political strategists reported that its voluntary collections from union members went over the $1 million mark last year, and is expected to climb well above that in this election year.

They also authorized an extra "voluntary assessment" of 5 cents for each AFL-CIO member.

The $700,000 this is expected to raise will go for voter registration and get-out-the-vote drives on election day.

Lincoln Marine, Doane Help Da Nang Orphans

. . . Clothing Drive Undertaken By Freshman Class

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete—An unusual "committee" it is that's behind this clothing drive: a Lincoln marine, a Crete coed, Doane College's whole freshman class.

The cause is Da Nang's orphans. Any story of their current project has to include an explanation of how the Nebraskans happened to team up.

Shocked By Poverty

It started when Rhoda Miller toured the Far East last summer with Doane's singing Vagabonds, returning "shocked at all the poverty." A Lincoln newspaper story reflecting similar views by Sgt. Dennis R. Smith prompted Rhoda to write him in Vietnam—and field a request in return.

"I would like to ask a very big favor of you and fellow Doane students," wrote the Lincoln High graduate, 20. "Gather all the clothing you can for the orphans here in Da Nang. I will pay all the postage costs."

Jack Chilcoat volunteered his 260 freshmen after Miss Miller, a sophomore, submitted the request to Doane's Student Council. An intensive effort will climax this Saturday with a canvass of Crete by the class.

Service Project

"Rather than the usual money-making project, we wanted something of real service," said Jack, a Stanton native. "We are pleased to contribute what we can to so great a need."

Although lacking the resources to pick up clothing in other towns, the freshmen guarantee shipment of any that is brought to Crete. Butler Gymnasium on the campus is the collection point.

Sgt. Smith's altruism at home as well as abroad was noted by the press regarding an unusual Christmas request of his mother, Mrs. Eileen Smith of 1002 So. 33rd. He asked that money intended for his present be used instead to host an indigent Negro family at a holiday dinner.

"One of the sergeant's requests we turned down," said Chilcoat. "The class, not Smith, will pay the clothing postage."

State To Assume Costs Of 4 Mental Institutions

Omaha (AP) — A legislative committee heard a suggestion Wednesday that the state assume all costs of the four state mental institutions.

Grant Roberts of Plattsmouth, a member of the Cass County Board, said if the state assumed the costs of the institutions the load would be equalized among the 93 counties.

Officials of Douglas, Lancaster and Cass Counties told the committee that the costs at the three state hospitals and the Beatrice State Home are pushing the counties close to the levy ceiling. The committee is studying laws governing payments for patients in the institutions. The hearing in Omaha Wednesday was the sixth and final hearing.

Lancaster Nears Ceiling

Earl Trabert, Lancaster County welfare director, told the committee Lancaster County is near the 14.28-mill ceiling. "I think many counties were hard hit by doing away with the property tax," he said.

At the same time the state placed the financial responsibility for the four institutions under the counties.

Douglas County Budget Director Ardrian Jaworski told the senators "the greatest thing that could come out of this group would be legislation to relieve the burden."

Sen. Calista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt said the committee has found that some counties make no effort to collect from relatives of patients.

Douglas County Welfare Director Carl A. Peterson said Douglas County pays about $2.8 million a year for care at the Beatrice home and collects about 10% from relatives.

Other members of the committee were Sens. Elmer Wallway of Emerson, Donald Elrod of Grand Island, William Wylie of Elgin and Ross Rasmussen of Hooper.

G.I. Marine Pfc. Johnson Fatally Hurt

Machine Gunner

Private Johnson was wounded Feb. 6 when the tank on which he was a machine gunner was struck by enemy fire near Quan Nam in Vietnam. The Marine Corps said he suffered shrapnel wounds in the head.

He had been in Vietnam since December and was serving with the First Marine Armored Division.

A 1966 graduate of Grand Island High School and former student at Doane College, Johnson entered the Marines in June of last year.

No Extensive Trouble Seen Despite Ice Jams

Grand Island (AP) — The Weather Bureau said some ice jams have developed on the Platte River below Grand Island, but observers were not anticipating extensive trouble.

The Weather Bureau said jams were reported from south of Grand Island to south of Alda and there was damage to the Union Pacific railroad bridge between Alda and Doniphan.

Nebraska News

The bureau noted, however that colder temperatures during the next couple of days could ease the situation.

Alfred Rasmussen, Grand Island public works director, said there was an ice jam about six miles west of the intersection of Interstate 80 and U.S. 281 south of Grand Island and there was some spilling into Wood River though it was not consequential.

Steve Fleharty of the Grand Island Weather Bureau said no rise has been reported in Wood River and hence there is no immediate danger to Grand Island.

Kearney officials reported conditions normal in the Kearney area.

Robbers Took Only Narcotics From Pharmacy

Omaha (UPI) — The chief pharmacist of the Lutheran Medical Center Pharmacy said Tuesday's robbers knew exactly what they were after.

The two men — both wearing ski masks — told chief pharamacist Eugene Gondringer: "We want your dope."

Gondringer said they ransacked drawers, passing over various drugs and taking only narcotics.

The men were described as large. One carried a pistol.

The armed man poked his weapon into the ribs of John Scheneman, 66, a maintenance man who was working in the hallway and forced him into the pharmacy.

Several witneses saw what was happening and alerted police. They took down the license number of a car the men fled in, but the auto turned out to be stolen.

9 Individuals, 5 Organizations In State Receive Freedom Awards

Valley Forge, Pa. (AP) —A school, a patriotic organization, a radio broadcast station and a public utility firm were among Nebraska recipients of 1967 Freedom Awards announced Wednesday by the Freedom Foundation.

Awards also went to William E. Galbraith of Beemer, national commander of the American Legion, along with eight other individuals.

The awards were given to those who in the opinion of the awards jury have promoted a better understanding of the American way of life through the things they have written, said or done during the current year.

Mrkva Top Winner

The foundation's highest award went to a 35-year-old State Department official, Frank J. Mrkva, who placed himself and his family "in imminent danger through four years" of anticommunist work.

Chief of the field service branch of the U.S. Passport Office, Mrkva was cited for thwarting efforts of Czechoslovakian agents to plant listening devices in buildings used by American diplomats. Mrkva is a native of Beaver Falls, Pa.

Alliance: JOSN Ronald K. Harvey, U.S. Navy, for an armed forces freedom letter.

Hastings: Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., for its nonprofit publication along with an identical medal to its editor, Johnny Hopp.

Homer: Robert W., Heckathron, a teachers medal award.

Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha: Capt. William F. Hayes and A 1c Delores A. Roberts, for armed forces letters.

Omaha: Department of Nebraska American Legion Auxiliary for a community program; SP 4 Fred Freeberg, U.S. Army armed forces letter; Robert Gilder School, school category; Jeannie Mahoney, poem; Grace W. Schumann, teacher's award.

Alternate Winner

Peru — Elaine Grundman of Talmage, a sophomore in biology at Peru State College, has been named an alternate winner of a $100 scholarship provided by the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers for the second semester, according to Mrs. Karl Janecek, Lincoln, chairman of the Nebraska Congress.

American Riots Helped Save National Guard—Cornelius

Hastings (UPI) —State Technical Assistance Director Samuel Cornelius said here Wednesday the National Guard should be "thankful" for the recent riots in American cities because the guard was about to die and the riots helped save it.

Cornelius, here for a religion and life week program at Hastings College, said the government now is allotting more appropriations to the guard to help it control the riots.

Cornelius, himself a Negro, asked a newsman if he had ever participated in a riot. When the newsman answered no, Cornelius said, "Well, you should, it's a good experience."

The director said there were three reasons for riots —looting, an anger at police, and a fear for their safety if they do not participate in the rioting.

Cornelius described the outlook for the summer in Omaha as "good." He did not elaborate.

Street Crime 'Not New'

He said Communists were not behind the aggravation; that crime in the streets is nothing new. "We had crime in the streets long before the first riots," he noted.

Cornelius termed the Detroit riots of last year "integrated looting."

He agreed there was a Negro revolution in America, said it was moving at a very fast pace, and that it would be "decided" within the next two years.

Sen. Robinson Backs Firing Of Rev. Scott

Kearney (AP)—Kearney State Sen. Leslie Robinson said Wednesday he supports Gov. Norbert Tiemann and Warden Sigler in their decision to dismiss the Rev. John Scott as the Roman Catholic chaplain at the Kearney Boys Training School.

Robinson said Sigler and Training School Supt. John McCarty "should be entitled to run the institution as they see fit."

The controversial Father Scott has been critical of operations at the school.

He has been defended by Beatrice Sen. Fred Carstens for "his right to speak out" on the school.

A legislative interim crime study committee headed by Carstens will begin an investigation of the school on March 4. Robinson said he plans to take part in the probe.

3 York Students Enter Guilty Plea In Burglary Case

York (UPI) — Three York College students entered guilty pleas in York County District Court to burglary charges. The trio waived preliminary hearing in County Court and were bound over to the higher tribunal.

The students, Vincent Beteto, 19, York; Ronald Henry, 18, Peoria, Ariz., and Dale Collier, 17, Frankfort, West Germany, will be sentenced at a later date.

The students were accused of being implicated in a series of 27 breakins and thefts dating back to last December.

Majority Of Omaha Council Favor Restricted Beer And Liquor Sale

Omaha (AP) — A majority of Omaha city councilmen indicate support for a proposal to permit restricted sale of beer and liquor at the City Auditorium.

However, Councilmen Al Veys, Sam Vacanti, Lynn Carey and Arthur Bradley Jr. said the sales should be closely controlled by the public property department.

Public property director Charles Christiansen has proposed sale of beer at public adult-type events in the auditorium such as wrestling. Liquor would be served at private events, such as conventions.

Of the other council members, president H. F. Jacoberger has said he would support the sale of beer and liquor at private, closed events, but not at public functions.

Councilwoman Betty Abbott said she would oppose the sales at public affairs at the auditorium and is undecided on whether sales at private events should be allowed. The other councilman, Robert Cunningham, was out of the city and unavailable for comment.

Plants To Close

Washington (AP)—Two of the government's helium production plants, at Shiprock, N.M., and Otis, Kan., are being shut down.

Summary of Conditions

The latest surface map shows a high center ridge from western Minnesota to extreme western Iowa, moving into the southeastern tip of Missouri by Thursday noon. Another high center from north central Canada will be just south of Lake Winnipeg by noon Thursday. A semi-stationary front, now on line from central Montana, eastern Wyoming to eastern Colorado and adjacent to the Nebraska panhandle, may move slightly eastward during the next 24 hours with waves of low pressure moving along the front.

Skies will be mostly cloudy Thursday and Friday over Nebraska with some scattered to intermittent snows in the western half of Nebraska mainly Thursday and spreading eastward into the remainder of the state Thursday night and Friday. Only very little snow is expected through the period in portions of northeastern Nebraska. Temperatures will be generally a little warmer Thursday and Thursday night and somewhat colder in most sections Friday.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A statistical composite picture of Nebraska is provided in a compilation of figures by the Nebraska State Education Association (NSEA). The facts on Nebraska have been gleaned from the national figures worked up by the National Education Association.

The figures show Nebraska sometimes in a good light and sometimes not so good. They show us as a state with a relatively successful education system even though it is not extensively supported, a thinly populated state and one with an overall population a little older in years than the average.

Too, we are a rural oriented society that seems healthy and stable. For health, we can point to a 16.5 infant death rate per 1,000 live births, the best record in the nation. We rank 10th from the best with 887.4 known major crimes per 100,000 population.

We have a few other firsts that we can point to, with pride or otherwise, depending upon your point of view. Our per capita long-term state government debt is zero and no other state can touch that.

We are Number One in the nation in local support of public education and Number One in reliance upon the property tax. Both of these ratings will change, however, as the new state tax system comes into full force. This new system will give us a diversified tax base and state aid to education.

Thus, we will change but to what extent? Nebraska now ranks 22nd in the nation in per capita income while it is Number 10 in total per capita state and local government expenditures.

This is not an excessively large disparity but it does demonstrate that the taxpayer in Nebraska on an overall basis is not so bad off. He is in a relatively better position than taxpayers in a lot of other states.

Some of the figures in the NSEA compilation also demonstrate that Nebraska is on the move, not content to occupy the last or near-last place on the totem pole of the states. Another first-place rating for us, and a significant one it seems, is in per cent of growth in per capita personal income.

In the decade from 1956 to 1966, per capita personal income in Nebraska went up 78.4 per cent as compared to a national average of 50 per cent. No other state did as well.

Unfortunately, there are some other figures that tell us we still have a long way to go. In 1966, 22.1 per cent of our families had incomes under $3,000 a year as compared to the national average of 21.5 per cent.

This compares with 21.3 per cent of families under $2,500 a year in 1965. Changes in the statistical income base make an exact comparison difficult but we obviously are getting more, not fewer, people in the very low income group.

Other educational statistics are both good and bad. We rate very well, fourth, in pupils per teacher in public elementary and secondary education but we are way down the line in 40th place in average classroom teachers' salaries.

Only three other states have fewer illiterates than Nebraska in the age group over 14 years and we rank 11th in the median of school years completed by our people 25 years of age and older.

We rate high in high school graduates and in qualifying young people for selective service.

In total, the statistical picture is far from a dismal one. It shows some past effort and a currently improving effort. But it is also obvious that we have no room for relaxation and without an even still greater effort, we could quickly find ourselves near the end of the list among the states in any measure of our educational and overall economic growth.

"McCarthyism!"

Kearney Chaplain Should Go

The debate over the dismissal of the Rev. John F. Scott as Catholic chaplain of the Boys Training School at Kearney makes no sense to us. Father Scott and another chaplain, Rev. Ronald Hennies of the Episcopal faith, have been highly critical of the Kearney operation.

It seems inconceivable that the two would be continued in their jobs by the administration they have attacked. It is even a very good question whether they can any longer be effective at the school in view of their past criticism.

In letting the two men go, Director Maurice Sigler of state correctional institutions is not taking a dictatorial position. Nor is it dictatorial to say that controversy will not be tolerated at the school.

It seems to us perfectly natural for Sigler to want staff people who are loyal to him and the man directly in charge of the school. To have people on the staff who are going around undercutting the efforts of the administration would be ridiculous.

Sigler does not mean that a member of the staff cannot complain or cannot make suggestions for improvement. Any organization welcomes this kind of thing and Sigler welcomes it. But what organization would welcome staff members publicly attacking the administration?

We find no fault with those who publicly criticize a public operation with which they are connected but we believe that, in doing so, they should be prepared to lose their positions.

One Of Those Days

There are days—a lot of them—when you can't win. Days when you learn, in the most unkind ways, just how non-valuable you are to the world.

Take, for instance, the case of the man who awoke the other morning at 6. In mortal pain, he dragged himself to the medicine chest, there to seek fast, fast, fast relief from the throbbing in his foot. "It is surely broken," he thought. He swallowed some aspirin and made his painful way back to bed. Sleep wouldn't come, but handsome visions did. He would be the object of Tender Loving Care from wife, children, co-workers, doctors and nurses. Best of all, he would be forced to spend a week in bed while the fracture healed.

At 9 a.m. he called for an urgent appointment with the doctor. At 9:05 he called his office, hoping for the first full dose of TLC. Instead, the announcement of his "broken foot" aroused only laughter and snide remarks. "What's the matter, Thumbs, have a little trouble taking down the Christmas tree?" And, "Oh, boy, can we sign your cast?"

Deflated, he made his way to the doctor's office. There, he knew, the full extent of his injury would become apparent and medical science would rush to his rescue, armed with miracle drugs and the TLC he needed so badly. The doctor probed and pushed, and finally ordered X-rays.

The pictures dashed all his hopes for a week in bed. Just a sprain, said the doctor. He handed our hero a prescription and kicked him back into the cold streets.

By 11, he was back at the office, working with shoes off and stiff upper lip on.

TLC? Nope. Because it was one of those days when you can't win.

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

I took fresh parsnips, crisp and sweet, from a plastic bag to prepare them for dinner today. As I did so, I thought of other women of long ago who prepared parsnips for dinner . . . Indian women who went out as soon as the ground thawed in the spring and dug their vegetables with crude tools. The moist earth that clung to the roots had to be cleaned from them, then perhaps a trip to a running stream to wash the remaining silt from them. Before they could be boiled in their cooking utensils, a wood fire had to be built with a goodly supply of saplings nearby to keep the fire burning.

My task involved only snipping a bag, running tap water over them in case any grit clung to them, though they were cleaned beforehand, and dropping them into boiling water. My boiling water was had by the turning of a dial on the electric stove. No wood smoke curled about me as I peeked into the kettle and my fuel supply did not need to be toted from the creek bottom.

I would walk a mile for a mess of parsnips, I thought, as they browned in butter and the aromatic fragrance steamed from the pan. Yes, I thought, I would have made a good Indian when parsnip hunting became the task of the day. I would search with the best of them and drool all the while. Other than that I am not so certain I would have been of any value to a tribe of red men.

I understand we are to have food made from sea weed and other plankton drifting in the ocean. With all of the radioactive refuse being dumped in the ocean, there may be some very interesting dinner-table conversation uttered by the future generation.

Imagine a small child saying to his mother, "If I eat my sea weed sandwich, will I light up like daddy does?"

"Yes, dear, you will glow just like daddy and stop making that face every time you bite into it. Eat it and glow strong."

"But I don't like this sandwich. I want a hamburger like granddad told me he ate when he was a boy."

Now it is father's turn to bribe. "My son, eat your good sandwich and I will give you a piece of chocolate candy made from the ground cellulose of the flax plant, mixed with de-fatted chocolate and the sap from the zingiberaceous plant."

One spring-like day last week I cleaned the picture windows. I thought I could not wait until spring cleaning time for they had lost their sparkle. The view is much brighter now. I have since cleaned all the windows on the inside of the house and feel quite smug that I have the jump on spring cleaning. When the warm winds blow, I will clean the outside of the windows and loiter in the sunlight of a new season.

Many women do not like to clean windows but I think it is a task that rewards me most richly. The hum-drum routine of dusting the furniture every day does very little to lift my spirits. Polishing windows is different. With every swish of the cleaning cloth, I can see a new light and sparkle appear. The sunlight glints in a new-found angle and lingers to reflect again and again. At night the glow of the lights sprint across the pane seeking a way to join the moonlight on the outside. Early morning sunrise seems a bit more colorful with the rose and pink of the east filtering across the ledge.

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repititious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials at the editor's discretion.

The Job Corps

Lincoln, Neb.

For more than 16 months, the Lincoln Job Corps Center has accomplished a feat that most educators and sociologists have said was impossible — to train the hard core unemployed youth. The vocational-technical training concept which began here at the Lincoln Job Corps Center has been implemented in many other areas of the country. The Lincoln center has graduated to date 1,100 Category I graduates. Most of these corpsmen are now working in jobs that will make them productive citizens and take them off the rolls of relief. We have 215 corpsmen who have passed the General Educational Development test (High School Equivalency Test). We have 170 corpsmen who have returned to school and 172 in the Armed Forces.

The remaining Job Corps centers have agreed to take the corpsmen who are presently in training at the Lincoln center. The corpsmen have been moving out daily and by March 1, all 1,100 corpsmen will be gone from Lincoln. Arrangements are being made to place the 425 staff members in Lincoln and other communities.

We are thankful that we were able to play a role in helping to train, educate and give something of ourselves to these less fortunate young men.

Throughout our stay here, we have made many friends and we want to thank them for their continued support, understanding, loyalty and enthusiasm.

Pigeon Fanciers

Lincoln, Neb.

It was with interest that I read the report in The Star on Tuesday morning, Feb. 20, regarding the current move to remove pigeons from the confines of the city. (Better places than Lincoln have failed because pigeons don't read!) This is but a further indication of how ignorance rather than understanding determines policy. If 800 square feet of space is adequate for 12 chickens, ducks or geese, by what reasoning should 12 pigeons with an average size of from 1/5 to 1/15 of that of the aforementioned species require the same amount?

Let's not succumb to such poor reasoning. Let us consider, rather, the contribution such a hobby makes in the welfare of youngsters and adults. It seems we are concerned about crime in the streets. The diversion which such a hobby provides takes youngsters off the streets, gives them something to occupy their time and teaches them a sense of responsibility.

Have you ever noticed the number of youngsters involved at the State Fair Pigeon Show? This has always been impressive to me every time I've been able to attend.

To the fancier, a pigeon may be something more than mere commercial product. It may also be a model of symmetry, or a symphony of color. And when troubles and disappointment come, the fanciers may repair to their breeding yards and find solace in speculating upon the excellence of the future offspring of their matings; or, perhaps they may presently contemplate the shapely outlines or exquisite color patterns their breeding techniques have already achieved. Such breeders are fortified with a morale which carries them over the rough spots and keeps them contentedly at their tasks.

Pigeons have the virtue of enabling the urban fancier to indulge his aesthetic urges right in his own back yard (if a few misguided individuals don't prevail). And may I offer a tip to you city wives and especially you golf widows? If you wish to keep your husbands more at home and your sons off the streets, just convert them to pigeon fanciers. For there are no more avid addicts than the pigeon breeders. You can scarcely entice them from their homes.

Confidently, I will predict that the blooms of the pigeon yard will provide inspiration during the bleak, dreary stretches of winter, long after the floral blossoms have become but withered memories.

BOB CONSIDINE

Miniskirt-Wearers Banished To Stocks

NEW YORK—What would Gen. Washington be up to today, if he was of the same mind and tongue as when he was president?

He'd surely be in trouble with the same people who pushed through the no-prayers-in-school decision of the Supreme Court.

The Founding Father left relatively few epigrams, proverbs and indelible nuggets behind him, compared to the Great Emancipator, Bartlett's Familiar Quotations remembers only:

"Labour to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire, — conscience." (Rule from the copy-book of Washington when a school boy).

"That unmeaning and abominable custom, swearing." (Orders against profanity in the Army.)

"To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace." (From his first State-of-the-Union speech.)

Whatever the source of his inspiration, G. Washington, as he signed his name, would have been utterly bewildered by a $2.3 billion a month war in a place named Vietnam, which he never heard of. Nor had he ever heard of a billion dollars. But, then, he also probably would have fainted at the sight of an airplane, pondered at length the risk of riding on an elevator or subway, fallen over backwards looking up at the Empire State Building, and ordered all wearers of miniskirts and beards placed in stocks.

Washington is responsible for Washington, D.C., that is. The harassed colleagues to whom he turned matters over when all he sought was to get back to the peace and quiet of dear Martha and Mount Vernon ran into all sorts of difficulties when deprived of his securely imperial presence. Pennsylvania veterans returning from the revolutionary war stuck their long guns through the windows of Carpenters Hall in Philadelphia and demanded that the Founding Fathers split up the non-existent swag.

Finally, the Fathers appealed to Big George to help them find a redoubt, a sanctuary wherein they could commune. George suggested a swamp area just abaft Georgetown, not too far from Mount Vernon. Nobody would want to wade through that muck to dismay the Fathers, he said.

He was relatively right, and they named the mess after him. With the help of a lottery, they built some inns and a few streets, and started on a capitol and a presidential mansion, (after a long debate on whether the chief of state of the United States should be called "king" or "president.") This was to us what Brasilia, another struggling capital, and much handsomer, became to Brazil.

DREW PEARSON

Guarding 38th Parallel Nerve-Wracking; No Combat Ribbons For Dangerous Patrol

(Editor's note: Mr. Pearson's assistant, Jack Anderson, reports today from the U.S. side of the 38th Parallel in South Korea.)

ALONG THE 38TH PARALLEL — The eye-watering cold made it difficult to focus, but across the demilitarized zone, in a crotch in the mountains, I could pick out the shadowy figures of North Korean soldiers.

"We don't worry about the ones you can see," remarked Capt. Fred Hoxie, Jr., with a grin. He is an amiable Negro from Houston, Tex., whose company mans the sandbagged trenches and bunkers at Observation Post Dort.

They were bracing for the sudden burst of machine-gun and grenade fire that might clobber their positions after dark. Hoxie pulled up a panel of chicken wire and secured it to a nail.

"This helps to deflect the grenades," he explained.

For the GIs who guard this rugged, 18-mile stretch of the 151-mile demarcation line, there had been only two quiet nights in two weeks. Yet they collect none of the combat pay which goes to all GIs in Vietnam, including those who man the filing cabinets and swivel chairs at Pentagon East in Saigon.

As dusk began to settle over the post, the men in the bunkers gripped their rifles nervously and tightened their wool-lined parkas. Under the parka, each wore a 16-pound flak jacket, regular jacket, woolly shirt and long johns. Still they shivered. For the icy breath of Siberia, blowing down from the North plunges the mercury to polar temperatures.

I ducked out of the savage cold into a room at the rear of the observation post. Eight or nine GIs were huddled in the gloom around a charcoal burner. Some were finishing off C rations. Others were preparing sleeping bags for "ambush patrol."

After dark, they would slip out of the bunkers and plant their sleeping bags in the paths that North Korean patrols might take. The GI sentries would crawl into the bags and lie silently on the frozen ground, their M-14 rifles ready for action. It was dreary, dangerous duty, for which the Army would give them no recognition, not even a combat ribbon.

As they made their preparations, they talked about what "Joe" might be doing. This is the name they give the enemy on the Korean front, just as the men in Vietnam speak of the enemy as "Charlie."

Pfc. Paul Bugaj, a thin-faced soldier from Buffalo, N.Y., recalled how Tower 38, the next observation post down the line, had been jumped a couple nights earlier. He was assigned to a seven-man, quick-reaction squad, which stood by ready to rush to the aid of any outpost that was bushwhacked. The squad holed up in the dingy room behind Observation Port Dort. Outside, an armored personnel carrier, weapons already aboard, was poised for a fast take-off.

Because of the bitter cold, they had to start the motor every two hours to keep it from freezing. Bugaj said he had gone outside about 3:40 a.m. to start up the "track," as he called it. Suddenly, the night was shattered by two grenade explosions and machinegun fire coming from Tower 38.

The quick-reaction squad poured out of the room and piled into the "track." Sgt. Tom Romzeck of Helena, Mich., slammed down next to Bugaj. The curly-haired Romzeck was eligible to go home and could have remained behind.

Each man gripped his rifle tensely as the "track" roared toward Tower 38, Specialist Edward Ingram from New York's Harlem at the wheel. Its approach must have scared off the North Koreans. Abruptly they stopped firing.

At the tower, the squad found Sgt. Grant Cunningham, Jr., of Washington, D.C., with a shrapnel gash above his right eye. One of the South Koreans also had a leg ripped by shrapnel.

The rescue squad called for flares from the field artillery in the rear, but not a flare appeared. So, in total darkness, the GIs moved cautiously down the steep slope, keeping within arms' reach of one another. They found some Soviet hand grenades and expended machinegun shells, but the infiltrators had disappeared into the night.

"They would have landed in the DMZ," explained Capt. Hoxie. "That would have been a violation of the armistice."

"You mean," I asked incredulously, "that a North Korean patrol sneaks across the DMZ and attacks one of our towers, yet we won't even fire a couple of flares because the shells might land in the DMZ?"

Hoxie grinned sardonically.

Tower 38 was closed to newspapermen, but I stopped at Tower 36 which also had been hit. Sgt. Jackie Brush of Columbus, Ohio, said a burst of automatic fire had whined just past his head.

Dusk had now settled over the DMZ. Lt. Robert Librook of Franklin, Ind., cast an anxious eye at the ominously overcast sky.

"It's going to be a black night," he said.

Retired Couple Enjoys Fruits Of Early Planning

By ROBERT PETERSON

Those planning ahead for retirement should develop personal techniques to insure financial security. Here's a letter from a retired electrician, 71, who says the plans he made some three decades ago have been paying off beautifully.

He writes that shortly after he and his wife passed 40 they made a list of various pleasures they hoped to enjoy when they retired. Then they set up a special savings account which they labeled their "bonbon." During the next quarter of a century they dropped into this account any extra monies which came their way or which they saved through thrift. "We told ourselves," he writes, "that if my pension proved adequate we'd blow the bonbon on luxury items we'd denied ourselves in earlier years.

"When I retired, my pension and personal income from investments totaled about $350 monthly. In addition there was Social Security. Since we owned our own home we felt we could, in good conscience, start spending the bonbon."

Here are some of the candies they've enjoyed the past five years:

1. — A trip to Scotland. They had long dreamed of spending a few months in the land of their ancestors. So shortly after retiring they hopped a freighter and spent three months in Scotland. Total cost for the two of them: $1,800.

2. — A shop in the basement. He said he's puttered at woodworking all his life but never had first-rate equipment. He bought a full set of power tools and now spends several hours a day making reproductions of antique furniture. Cost: $800.

3.—A small greenhouse. He and his wife like flowers so they bought materials and built a small heated greenhouse attached to their dining room. Total cost: $800.

4.—A new car every year. It seems that throughout their working life they thriftily drove cars five and six years before trading in on a new one. Cost: $1,200 a year.

It's not a good idea to put all your pleasures in cold storage until you retire. But there's something refreshing and inspiring about this electrician and his wife who had the good sense to postpone luxuries until they were sure they could afford them, and who are now enjoying the fruits of their foresight.

If you would like the booklet, "Retiring to Ireland," write to Robert Peterson, "Life Begins at Forty," care of the Lincoln Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Contractors Invited To Bid On 12 Highway Projects

By United Press International

The Nebraska Roads Department Wednesday invited contractors to submit bids on 12 highway improvement projects involving 32.2 miles in 10 counties.

State Engineer John W. Hossack said the bids will be announced March 21, with low proposals made public the following day. Contracts will be awarded shortly after that. Work will begin this spring.

Included in the list is the paving of 10 miles of Neb. 24 between Norfolk and Stanton in northeast Nebraska. The project has long been sought by area interests.

The only Interstate highway work is roadside improvement at the North Platte weighing station in Lincoln County.

Estimated cost of the projects is $1.1 million. The source of the money: Federal aid Interstate, $10,000; federal aid secondary, $485,000; county funds, $100,000; state recreation road funds, $205,000; state construction funds, $290,000, and state maintenance funds, $10,000.

The breakdown, listing county, location, miles involved (if any) and type of work:

FEDERAL AID INTERSTATE

Lincoln County — On the Interstate at the North Platte weighing stations; roadside improvement.

FEDERAL AID SECONDARY (STATE)

Madison, Stanton—On Neb. 24 between Norfolk and Stanton; 10, grading, paving, culverts, guard rail, surfaced shoulder construction, armor coat and related work.

FEDERAL AID SECONDARY (COUNTY)

Cass — On secondary highway north of Weeping Water; 2.8; grading, crushed rock for base course, gravel surfacing and culverts.

Sioux—On the secondary highway north of Harrison; 4.1; grading, culverts, guard rail, shoulder construction, armor coat and related work.

Scotts Bluff — On the secondary highway west of Lake Minatare; 2; asphalt surface and related work.

Lincoln — On secondary highway south of Wallace; 2.3; grading, gravel surfacing and culverts.

Perkins — On secondary highway southwest of Elsie; one concrete box culvert.

STATE RECREATION

STATE MAINTENANCE

Dawson — At the Gothenburg maintenance shop; roadside improvement.

Well Drillers Are Told They're State's 'Biggest' Industry

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

The more than 300 well drillers that are members of the Nebraska Well Drillers Association were told here Wednesday at their 37th annual conference that they represent the state's biggest industry.

"Tonnage wise, providing water is seven times larger than any other industry and our water supply counts for one-half of our production capital," said V. H. Dreeszen, director of the conservation and survey division of the University of Nebraska.

Dreeszen said the well driller of today must have many qualifications, including a knowledge of sanitary engineering, electrical engineering, pump testing and well development since the work of supplying water today requires much more detail than earlier efforts in producing a supply of water.

Recognize Shortage

Dean Christensen of Omaha, president of the association, said, "Our group has thousands of years of practical experience, but we recognize a real shortage of technical knowledge that is a valuable part of conferences and short courses."

Christensen, in speaking on the future role of the well driller, encouraged industry members to take part and "get involved" in legislation and state water planning.

"If we don't pick up the ball and get involved on problems in our field, you have only yourself to blame if you don't like the future results," Christensen said.

Designed 'Best Wells'

Dreeszen credited Nebraska well drillers with designing "some of the best wells in the country" as he described the conservation and survey division as "wholesalers of information."

Christensen said the public is becoming "more water conscious" and that the participation of families in discussing water planning for homes and farms has resulted in much more thought going into pollution problems that might affect a water supply.

He said that, just as in many other industries, the "big drillers" or the driller that could supply a great deal in services and information are taking over an increasing share of business volume.

'Needs Information'

"Today, the well driller needs much more information and facts and detail in his work. He needs the ability to explain various problems to his customers, and he must be a leader in telling the story that water is Nebraska's prime resource," said Christensen.

Christensen said that when the drillers association was formed in 1929 the organization had 35 members. Today the group has 315 well drillers and 67 associate members, he said.

An extensive display of water well equipment and associated supplies furnished by industries that supply the well drillers is part of the convention.

Thursday's sessions will include a panel of manufacturers and distributors explaining "What's new in wells."

Other officers include; Clyde Harmon, vice president, Scottsbluff; Dan Moser, treasurer, Hickman; and Jerry Svoboda, secretary, Lincoln.

Status Granted 223,000

Ottawa (AP) — Canada granted landed immigrant resident status to 222,876 people last year, the highest total since 1957 when the 1956 Hungarian anti-Soviet uprising and the 1956 Middle East war spurred many of the 280,000 who came to Canada.

Prince Andrew Joins Cub Scouts

London (AP) — Prince Andrew, second son of Queen Elizabeth II, became a cub scout Wednesday in a ceremony at Buckingham Palace. He was 8 years old Monday. His pack meets in a movie theater at the palace.

Andrew pledged, among other things, to do his duty to the queen, who watched the ceremony.

Drunk Driving Penalties Questioned

By United Press International

Can a motorist who refuses to submit to a sobriety test have his driving privileges suspended for a year by the state if a court invokes a six-month restriction on a drunken driving conviction?

That question was presented to the State Supreme Court Wednesday when the Nebraska Motor Vehicles Department appealed a key case under the state's 1959 implied consent drunken driving law.

Involved is a finding by Judge John C. Burke of the Douglas County District Court that the department was wrong in suspending the license of Theodore J. Ziembra of Omaha for a year after he had a six-month revocation imposed by the Omaha Municipal Court.

According to the record, Ziembra refused to submit to a blood, breath or urine sobriety test after being stopped by Omaha police on suspicion of drunken driving.

Later he pleaded no contest in municipal court to a drunken driving complaint. The maximum penalty was imposed — a $100 fine and loss of driving privileges for six months.

The Motor Vehicles Department then ordered Ziembra to show cause at a hearing why he refused to take the sobriety test.

Following the hearing, Department Director Larry C. Johns invoked the maximum penalty prescribed by the implied consent law — loss of driving privileges for one year.

Ziembra filed a petition in district court challenging Johns' action.

Judge Burke concluded that where a person is found guilty by a court of drunken driving, he cannot later be penalized under the implied consent law.

The State Justice Department disagrees. It wants the Supreme Court to reverse the lower tribunal decision.

A department spokesman said the outcome of the case could affect numerous similar revocation actions pending before the motor vehicles director.

Kellogg's introduces COLOR

4 new Frosted Pop-Tarts

3 with special sugar sparkled icing

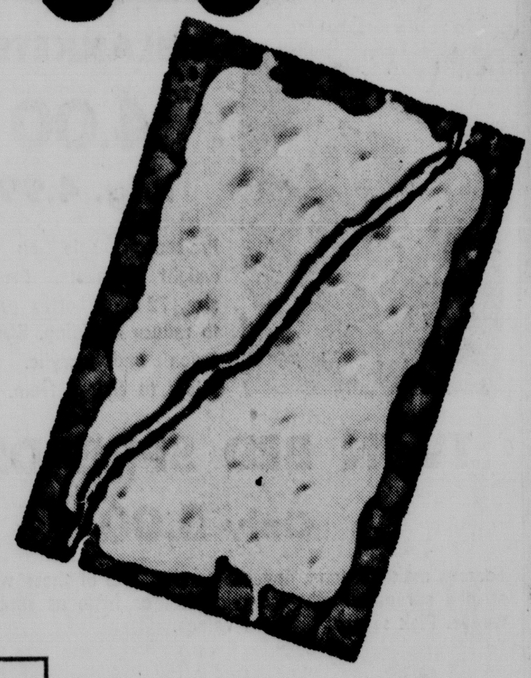
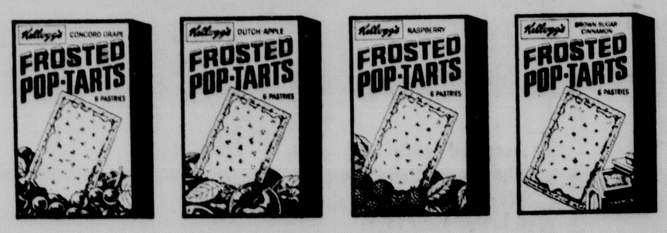
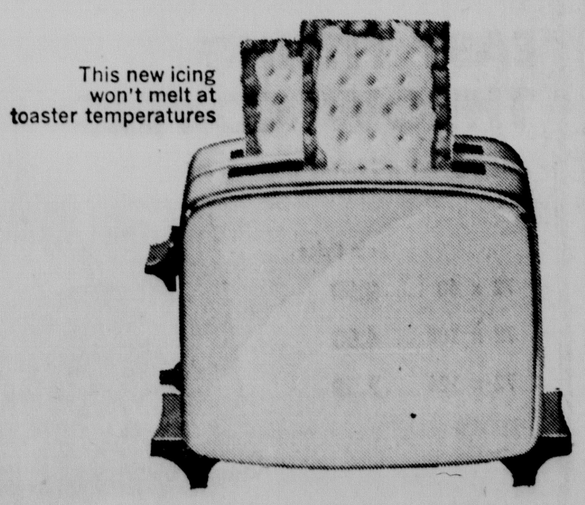
CHOCOLATE

with white icing and coconut filling



Have you tried these four Frosted Pop-Tarts flavors? Concord Grape with white icing; Raspberry with pink icing; Brown Sugar-Cinnamon with brown sugar icing; and Dutch Apple with white icing.





First came regular Pop-Tarts®. Then—Frosted Pop-Tarts. Now our latest—sugar sparkled Frosted Pop-Tarts in three new flavors. Plus an all-new Pop-Tarts pastry—Chocolate with white icing and coconut filling.

Sugar sparkled Pop-Tarts have the same tender pastry crust that made regular Pop-Tarts so popular. Same luscious whole-fruit preserve fillings—Blueberry with golden icing and buttercrunch sparkles; Strawberry with white icing and rainbow sparkles; Cherry with pink icing and red sugar sparkles.

Try 'em hot from the toaster—the sparkled icing won't melt (our secret). Or, eat 'em fresh from their foil wraps for lunch, snacks, a picnic. Sugar sparkled Frosted Pop-Tarts—in the toaster pastry section at your grocer's.

Special Session Sought For Kearney St. Solution

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Normal Board Wednesday decided to ask Gov. Norbert Tiemann for a special session of the Legislature to solve the space problem at Kearney State College.

Dr. Francis J. Brown of Genoa, board chairman, said the purpose of the special session would be authorize or appropriate funds for construction of classrooms and dormitory facilities.

Board members agreed the growing enrollment and limited facilities have created "too big a problem" to tackle alone and voted to seek the advice and a possible special session from the governor and the Legislative Council's executive board.

Meet With Tiemann

Brown said he would name a special committee of himself and board members to meet with the governor.

Dr. Milton J. Hassel, Kearney State College president, said the college's space problem was magnified by loss of some $350,000 in federal funds for the school's proposed fine arts building, denial of revenue bonds for a new 400-bed dormitory and the structural failure of the Administration Building's auditorium wing with a loss of 10% of the campus' classroom space.

He said the college's projected enrollments are 5,400 students next fall, 5,900 by 1969 and 7,000 by 1971. Enrollment last fall was 4,839 students.

James Knapp, board member from Kearney, said 5,000 students would have to be turned away during the next four years unless classroom facilities are provided.

Has No Alternative

Hassel said the college administration has no alternative but to limit enrollment unless facilities are provided.

Earlier this year, the Legislature denied the college permission to issue revenue bonds for a 400-bed dormitory because provisions hadn't been made in the 1967-69 budget request.

Last week, the auditorium and classroom wing of the Administration Building was evacuated because of structural failure of third-floor trusses.

Demolition Ordered

Based on an investigation and report of architects and a consulting structural engineer, the board Wednesday ordered the demolition of the auditorium wing.

Hassel said demolition could be started within 10 days, based on an estimated $13,000 cost to be negotiated.

Replacement of the wing is estimated upwards of $549,000, and the architects said only a $24,000 saving would be realized by attempting to salvage the existing walls.

Hassel said faculty music studios have been relocated from the auditorium wing to Conrad Residence Hall, and the board authorized payment of $160 per week for the 20 rooms occupied as classrooms in the residence hall to the revenue bond account.

The board termed the classroom relocation as temporary, and authorized the administration to investigate the possibility of renting or buying residences near the campus for classroom use.

In other action, the board:

—Were advised final plans for the $1.1 million Chadron State College science building would be ready in March, but bid letting could be delayed by the current freeze on federal funds.

—Directed the college presidents to recommend a policy for refund of tuition to students inducted during the school term into the armed forces.

Note Pad Doodles By Hoover Given To Iowa Library

West Branch, Iowa (AP) — Twenty-two note pad doodles by the late president Herbert Hoover were donated to the Hoover Presidential Library Wednesday by Hanford Thayer, a Seattle, Wash., engineer.

Thayer said he acquired the doodles, the first received by the library, from an uncle, James H. MacLafferty, who was a secretary, to Hoover during his years as commerce secretary and president.

Thayer also presented 25 paintings, based on the doodles, by his wife, Lois, a professional artist.

Mitchell, Mrs. Biegert Endorse Bid By Exon

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Democratic State Chairman John Mitchell and National Committeewoman Maurine Biegert Wednesday endorsed the candidacy of J. J. Exon of Lincoln for the party post of national committeeman.

Both party officers are expected to seek re-election at the state convention in Grand Island June 15.

Mitchell said he will announce his plans within a week.

Exon is seeking the post being vacated by Omaha banker Marvin Werve. Also in the race is Omaha attorney Thomas Kelley.

Geographic considerations—as well as power within the party structure — appear to favor Exon in the committeeman contest, particularly if Mitchell is to be re-elected chairman.

Mitchell has moved from Kearney to Omaha and now practices law in both communities.

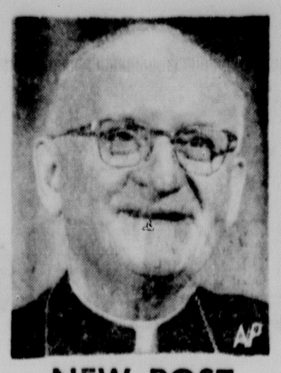
Party regulars are reluctant to consider naming Omahans to both the chairmanship and the national committee post.

Mrs. Biegert hails from Shickley.

Thus, a Mitchell-Exon-Biegert triumvirate would provide representation for Omaha, Lincoln and outstate Nebraska.

If Kelley were chosen committeeman, it is likely that Mitchell would have opposition for the chairmanship.

"I am extremely pleased to see Exon become a candidate for committeeman," Mitchell said. "As state vice chairman, he has done an outstanding job. I wholeheartedly endorse his candidacy."



NEW POST

Bishop John J. Carberry of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbus, Ohio, was appointed the new archbishop of St. Louis Wednesday by Pope Paul VI. Bishop Carberry said he hopes to carry on the civil rights work of his predecessor, Joseph Cardinal Ritter, who died June 11, 1967. He will assume the new post March 25.

USDA To Cut Assistance Funds For State's Poultry News Service

Federal assistance for the Nebraska Poultry and Egg Market News Service will be terminated March 31, 1968, according to word received by the Nebraska Department of Agriculture from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Bill Jones, assistant director of agriculture, said the USDA has advised Nebraska that the federal government will "pull out funds and terminate the existing program of supplying one-third of the funds for the poultry and egg market news service in an economy cut being made by the USDA."

Jones said the announcement came as a surprise to Nebraska officials since an expanded program for poultry and egg market news reporting had been discussed just a few months ago with federal officials.

The announcement from the USDA, which lacked details, was interpreted by Nebraska officials as indicating that the Nebraska poultry and egg market news service would be one of a few terminated by the USDA.

Jones said it was hard to understand the "economy cut" since the federal participation amounted to $3,150 annually and the program had worked very well with federal participation allowing comformity with reports from other states.

"We are hopeful this is not the final answer. It is imperative that poultry industry leaders indicate the importance of the program to government officials because the termination of federal participation will result in a cutback of Nebraska's program," said Jones.

Democrats Top Republicans In Greeley Co. Registration

Greeley County finally has submitted current voter registration figures to the secretary of state—the last of the state's 93 counties to do so—and Greeley turns out to be the most Democratic county in the state.

Of the 1,228 registered voters in Greeley County, 740 are Democrats and 487 are Republicans. Only one registered independent was reported.

Deputy Secretary of State Allen J. Beermann said Greeley brings to nine the number of counties where Democrats outnumber Republicans in voter registrations.

The secretary of state's office assembles monthly reports on the progress of voter registration as counties proceed to register voters under a 1967 legislative act requiring statewide voter registration. Previously voter registration was required in only 12 of the 93 counties.

$30,000 Sought In Accident Suit

G. Edwin Pearce filed a $30,000 damage suit in Lancaster District Court Wednesday in connection with a two-car accident at Skyway and Steinway Roads, Dec. 3, 1965.

The plaintiff alleges negligence on the part of the defendants, Elizabeth Stuchlik and Lawrence Stuchlik, when a car driven by Mrs. Stuchlik collided with the car he was driving.

A nickel's worth of Sno-Bol will sanitize and deodorize your you-know-what.

General purpose cleaners are fine for most jobs. But not for cleaning toilet bowls. Sure they get things clean. But they don't deodorize and sanitize.

Liquid Sno-Bol cleans in seconds while it deodorizes and sanitizes. It's faster and more efficient than any dry bowl cleaner. You can pour Sno-Bol full strength to remove rust stains and calcium deposits. And it works better and costs less than other leading cleaners.

When I first came to Portugal (and that was a few years ago, Claude), the major fado place was Machado's.

It was in the lantern-lit, cobbled streets of the Barrio Alto. The old section of Lisbon on the hills. On Sunday, the church bells ring across the town as they did for Vasco da Gama when he set off on the discovery voyage those golden years ago.

Now the Lisboans say: "Not Machado's! It is for tourists."

That's the curious thing about the tourist business which has become so big in Europe that President Johnson wants to stop it off.

When the big tourist rush started, shortly after World War II, there were many famous cafes known only to the American rich. (Who else could afford the Grand Tour?)

There was the back bar in the Ritz in Paris — the right bar.

There was Harry's at 5 Rue Daunou — "tell the taxi driver sank roo do noo" said the card.

There was the Savoy grill room and Simpson's in London. Botin's in Madrid. The Excelsior Bar in the Via Veneto in Rome. (Where King Farouk lushed it up on orange juice.)

The right beaches. The correct train to take from Nice to Paris: "Le Train Bleu" or "Le Mistral."

The new tourists tried these places and wrote them off. "Too touristy," they told their friends at home. "Now, we discovered this fascinating little place on the Left Bank where the tourists don't go . . ."

It became the mark of the smart fellow to find these places — "where the tourists don't go."

The problem was that pretty soon all the tourists were discovering the "places where the tourists don't go."

These places were full of tourists.

And that is what happened to Machado's.

About the fado. The fado is the music of Portugal. Haunting. Minor-keyed. Sad — the sadder the better, for the Portuguese live their lives in lovely sadness and they love it.

"My maids are happiest when they are weeping and getting ready to go to a funeral," an American lady in Estoril told me.

The fado is sung to the accompaniment of a plucked guitar. Just a few notes in the background. Plink, plunk, plink. Don't strum all the way across the eight strings.

It is sung traditionally by a woman who wears, traditionally, a black shawl.

Most Portuguese women you see are in black. Mourning lasts a long time. And in the coffee houses, where businessmen gather in the morning, half the men will have a black ribbon sewed on the sleeve.

The fadista rises. She puts on her black shawl. The guitar hits one note — plink. All the people in the fado place begin to hiss — "sh, sh, sssshhhh!"

The fadio audience demands absolute silence. And once in Lisboa a Noite, I dropped my table knife. Everyone glared at me and said, "shhhhh!"

The fadista sings sad songs. Of unrequited love. Of lovers parted and despairing. Of the loved one dead at a tender loving age, leaving the lover in unending tears.

I cannot understand Portuguese. But that is what they tell me about the fado. I am glad I do not understand Portuguese.

Such sadness would blow me out of my blooming mind. I am a happy fellow when night falls. I don't want a lot of cry babies around me. I want action.

For the Portuguese, tears are the action. And when you come to Portugal, the first thing they ask you is, "Have you heard the fado?"

If you say, "no," they will not rest until you have gone to one.

If you do, ask to go to "A Severa." The fado is good—(or so they tell me). But the reason I go is for the fresh, fried Portuguese sardines. Delicious.

Intercollegiate Debate Tourney Slated At NU

Forty-two colleges and universities from eight midwestern states will be represented at the University of Nebraska Intercollegiate Debate Tournament, Feb. 22-25.

Dr. Donald Olson, director of debate at the University and supervisor of the tournament, said teams from Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wisconsin will participate in the 28th annual tournament.

Nebraska schools entering the contest are: Creighton, Omaha and Nebraska Wesleyan Universities, Chadron State, Doane, Hastings, Hiram Scott, John F. Kennedy, Kearney State, Midland Lutheran, St. John, and Wayne State colleges. The University of Nebraska will enter 16 participants.

The tournament will feature contests in debate, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking and interpretative reading. Debate teams will be arranged in two divisions.

The debate question will be: "Resolved: That the federal government should guarantee a minimum annual cash income to all citizens." There will be six rounds of preliminary debate, after which the top eight teams in each division will go into final rounds.

About 120 students will compete in the individual speaking events. The contestants may participate in only one individual event in addition to being a member of a debate squad.

A sweepstakes award will be presented to the school doing "the best overall job" in individual events and the senior debate division.

First round debates will begin at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Quarter-finals will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, semifinals at 3:00 p.m. and the finals at 4:30 p.m. The Temple Building will be tournament headquarters.

Nebraska Nurses To Attend Meet At NU Center

More than 300 Nebraska nurses are expected to attend a conference on the "Legal Aspects of Nursing" scheduled for Feb. 28-29 at the University of Nebraska Center.

The program will concentrate on health laws in the United States and Nebraska. Some significant court decisions will be examined and the legal limit of liability and immunity for nurses will be discussed.

Keynote speaker will be Mrs. Grace C. Barbee, legal counsel for the California Nurses Association.

Group Asks Return Of Job Corps Land

. . . TO CITY COUNCIL

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The Mayor's Development Committee said Wednesday it will mount a strong campaign to win release of Lincoln Job Corps Center property from federal control once the center is closed.

The seven-member advisory team urged Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf:

—To communicate to the federal government "very strongly" Lincoln's concern over the cost and extent of maintenance problems that would crop if the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) chooses to leave the land and buildings dormant.

Announced Intentions

The federal office has announced its intentions to put the center in moth ball status until the end of fiscal 1969.

—To ask for assurance that OEO will implement an "immediate re-use" of the property and if not, that it will return control as quickly as possible.

If the OEO decides it has no further use for the facility and turns it back to the General Services Administration (GSA) to start the disposal process, the committee said it will then work with the mayor to find new tenants.

Committee member Chauncey Barney said it is possible that a "right-of-entry" permit might be obtained (if the government decides not to use the land) such as the Lincoln Airport Authority now exercises over the rest of the former Air Force base property while formal disposition proceedings are taking place.

Will Send Letters

Mayor Schwartzkopf said he will send letters expressing Lincoln's concern over the welfare of the property immediately to OEO officials and the Nebraska congressional delegation.

He said he and possibly other committee members will also go to Washington to seek assurances if necessary.

J. O. Grantham, vice president of Job Corps contractor Northern Systems Co., said he sees no immediate re-use of the facility by the OEO under their existing anti-poverty programs.

Serving in an advisory capacity to the mayor's committee, Grantham said, "Just judging from the condition of the OEO right now—the posture they are in and the shift in emphasis of the manpower program — the chances they will use the property again are extremely remote.

'Quickly As Possible'

"The move should be made to get that property back as quickly as possible."

Barney emphasized that not only will the Job Corps closing result in the loss of $180,000 in revenue to the Lincoln Air Park West steam heat plant and $100,000 for fire protection, but it will create "pure maintenance problems" as well.

"You know the problems that would arise if 500 acres in the middle of town would suddenly become vacant — in come the vandals, the spooks and the beer parties," he said.

'Real Pickling Job'

"This community can't stand to have that area put in moth balls or limbo till the end of fiscal 1969. Unless a real pickling job is done, it will deteriorate so fast it will end up a pile of junk."

He noted that on the 500-acre Job Corps campus there is 1 million square feet of building space, plus 11 "off-site" buildings under Job Corps control, including the old Air Force dental clinic and security building.

It was stressed that re-development possibilities would not be limited once the property is again under city control and conceivably, industrial, educational and other uses could abide together in the same area.

NU Regent Ed Schwartzkopf, the mayor's brother, said the committee should give extensive thought to locating vocational technical education facilities within the 500 acres.

"We haven't scratched the surface in this area," he said.

Conflict Of Interest Charges Renewed

South Sioux City (AP)—Councilman Wayne Shanks renewed his allegations that two city officials were involved in a conflict of interest.

He presented Councilman Harold Pilgrim with a list of 11 questions concerning the "digging of a hole" with city equipment at a marina owned by Albert Thacker Jr., a member of the city dock board.

Thacker had offered the dirt to the city for use in the city dump providing the city would haul it away.

Shanks said he was presenting the questions to Pilgrim because Pilgrim had said he was responsible for authorizing the digging of the hole.

Cites State Statute

Shanks said Nebraska statute makes it illegal for any city official to enter into a contract with the city for the purchase of goods from the official.

Pilgrim had told the council at a Feb. 6 meeting the cost of hauling the dirt was less than the cost of buying the dirt originally would have been.

Councilman William Wormersley declared he did not think it fair to single out Pilgrim. "I don't think Pilgrim should have to assume the responsibility at all," Wormersley said.

At the meeting Feb. 6 Shanks also asked why Interstate Developers, Inc., owners of three new apartment buildings, had not yet paid $1,500 to the city for the installation of water meters in the buildings, which opened Sept. 1. At this week's meeting city attorney Don Fitch, a stockholder in the corporation, said he had been authorized to make the payments from next month's rent.

Peru Grad Cited

Peru — Jean Ast, a 1962 graduate of Peru State College, has been named one of the outstanding early education teachers by Grade Teacher magazine. Miss Ast, who teaches at Cody Elementary, Millard, is one of 180 women cited by the professional magazine.

Chronicle To Be Printed

Tokyo (AP) — The Imperial Household Agency announced it will publish commercially "The Chronicle of Emperor Meiji" in about 13 volumes based on the pre-World War II privately published version to tell the story of the ruler largely responsible for the modernization of Japan.

SST Program Said Delayed Due To Technical Problems

Washington (AP) — Technical problems were reported Wednesday to be forcing about a year's delay in the program to develop a supersonic transport aircraft. This could mean the big ship might not fly until 1972.

Sources said the White House planned to make an announcement of the stretch-out later.

However, at the White House, press secretary George Christian referred queries to the Federal Aviation Administration.

Persons in touch with government representatives said the delay would be due to technical difficulties associated with the design changes recently authorized to improve the performance of the 1,800 mile-an-hour airplane.

The Boeing Co. of Seattle, manufacturer of the plane, and the FAA declined comment and referred queries to the White House.

The Seattle Times earlier reported the prospective delay.

Informed persons here confirmed a report by the Times that the delay was due to technical problems rather than political issues.

However, the postponement would sharply reduce the amount requested for the program — $223 million — in the budget for the next fiscal year. This could tend to silence criticism of the proposed spending.

AID Chief Denies Kickback 'Tales'

Washington (UPI) — The chief of the U.S. foreign aid program said Wednesday charges that some of his employes accepted kickbacks and female favors from a Belgian contractor were nothing but "tall tales."

Administrator William S. Gaud of the Agency for International Development (AID) told congressional investigators:

"It would be very tempting to discuss details of this case and set still a good deal of misinformation and tall tales about it, but the Justice Department has advised me that any public prosecution might prejudice their case and possible prosecution."

A House government operations subcommittee is investigating AID's relationship with J. & M. Andriaenssens of Anterp, which did equipment reconditioning for AID.

Churches Call For Changes In U.S. Policies

© New York Times Service

San Diego — The National Council of Churches Wednesday called upon the United States government to make far-reaching changes in its foreign policy to pave the way for a world peace based on justice.

In a major statement of policy, the council set forth the following recommendations, or "imperatives," for the U.S.:

—Stop the bombing of North Vietnam as a prelude to seeking a negotiated peace.

Provocative Actions

—Avoid provocative military actions against Communist China in the knowledge that it has a legitimate interest in Asia.

—Press for the admission of the Peking government to the United Nations.

—Create conditions for cooperation between the United States and the Communist countries of Eastern Europe, the Soviet Union and Cuba.

Cuba Recognition

—Recognize the government of Cuba and acknowledge the existence of the East German Republic.

—Remove restrictions on imports from Communist countries and on cultural exchanges between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

The 5,000-word statement, entitled, "Imperatives of Peace and Responsibilities of Power," was approved by the council's policy-making general board meeting here. The council is a federation of most of the major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox church bodies in the U.S.

Mistaken Assumptions

The council statement listed what were viewed as mistaken assumptions underlying U.S. foreign policy:

—An oversimplified view of a world divided into two camps, free and Communist.

—A false and even "arrogant" concept that the U.S. has a unique mission to repeal aggression throughout the world, thus fostering false moralism and self-righteousness.

Reliance on Power

—A reliance on military power as the chief means of keeping the peace, thus submerging social and economic development at home and abroad.

—The making of unilateral decisions on the use of power, although collective action is necessary.

—The employment of U.S. power to preserve the status quo, with the frequent result of discouraging social change needed in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The statement was presented to the board members by the Rev. Dr. Tracey K. Jones Jr., chairman of the council's advisory committee on peace and associate general secretary of the Methodist Board of Missions.

The vote was 100 in favor of the document, 14 against and 3 abstaining.

PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Negro School Guarded

Lorman, Miss (AP)—Freezing rain glazed the hilly, rural campus of all-Negro Alcorn A&M College Wednesday night as some 150 state troopers huddled in cars—on guard against another outbreak of bloody rioting.

The sub-freezing cold that moved in during the day cut student movement to a minimum and eased any threat of more violence.

Gunfire broke out on campus early Wednesday, leaving three persons wounded by bullets. And, afterward, sheriff's officers reported finding almost 100 unspent rifle bullets in one of the dormitories.

Police kept roadblocks up as darkness fell, checking those that went into the area. A fire truck was driven into the area from Natchez, some 30 miles south of here, after dark.

Plea Of Guilty Ends 7 Years Of Legal Moves

Eatonton, Ga. (AP) — A 22-year-old Negro, Preston Cobb Jr., has pleaded guilty to a charge of voluntary manslaughter and has been sentenced to 18 years in prison, apparently halting court maneuvers that began about seven years ago.

Prosecutor George D. Lawrence said the plea came after an agreement between himself, Superior Court Judge Jack W. Ballenger and defense attorneys.

Cobb was first sentenced to death in 1961 when he was 15 for the slaying of 70-year-old Coleman Dumas, a white farmer, in an argument over a fish caught in Dumas' pond.

The case drew worldwide attention because of Cobb's age.

Mayor Hopes Housing Win Spurs Solons

Flint, Mich. (AP) — Flint Mayor Floyd J. McCree, who has seen his open housing law resurrected twice after being presumed dead, said Wednesday he hopes its victory in a referendum will spur the Michigan Legislature to pass a similar law.

"I can't see anything but good coming out of this election so far as statewide open housing legislation is concerned," said McCree, who was elected mayor of this automotive center of 200,000 in November, 1966, becoming the first Negro in the United States to be mayor of a city as large as Flint.

A referendum Tuesday on the law passed by the city commission at first showed it had been repealed by a narrow 54 votes. Owing to a 100-vote error in the first unofficial tabulation, however, the latest tally showed the measure approved, 20,172 for and 20,129 against.

The ordinance prohibits persons from discriminating in the sale or rental of property on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

that always is welcome

You may call it anything you want to—dactylipera—or maybe dactus carrot bread—but it all comes out the same way, tasty delicious.

It's really date and carrot bread, quick, easy and SO good.

Served with butter, honey, a cheese spread or any other of your favorites, with a cup of coffee, tea, or hot chocolate, this fresh bread will be welcome at any table.

DATE-CARROT BREAD

The ingredients you'll need, are:

½ cup (1 stick) butter
1 cup firmly backed brown sugar
3 eggs
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon lemon rind
2 cups grated carrots
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup (1 8-oz. package) Bordo imported diced dates

Begin by creaming butter and sugar. Then add in the eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition.

Add lemon juice, lemon rind and grated carrots. Mix until blended.

Sift dry ingredients together. Then add them to the mixture and blend well. Add Bordo imported diced dates and mix until the dates are well coated.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Generously grease bottom of baking pans before filling. This recipe makes either three individual loaves in 3" x 5" miniature loaf pans or one large loaf in an 8" x 4" pan. Individual loaves should bake for 30-40 minutes. Large loaf should bake for 45-55.

Recipe serves 6 to 8.

Danish Sauces For Sandwiches

Witness the Danish approach to the sandwich!

Visitors from the United States have noticed that each and every sandwich (of which there were 156 listed) served daily at a famous Danish restaurant, could be ordered on any one of five types of bread, sliced paper thin, of course, and "open." Interesting, too, is that many of the sandwiches call for "mayonnaise" spelled the same way in Danish and English. Many of these foods which might be set forth in the average Danish home at lunch time are easily duplicated here in America.

In Copenhagen you design your own sandwich, using Portuguese sardines, liver paste, slices of Emmenthaler cheese and of Danish ham, or rolled thin, sliced roast beef and salmon, along with a dish of tasty crayfish. Each person makes his own sandwich, spreading the bread first with a thin layer of butter or margarine. Then he creates his own picture with the delicacies he likes best, finishing with a dainty garnish of cucumber or tomato twist, ribbons of lettuce, halves of radish roses, and a liberal topping of plain or seasoned mayonnaise.

HORSERADISH MAYONNAISE SAUCE

¼ cup fine soft bread crumbs
¼ cup light cream
¼ cup horseradish
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash Tabasco
¼ cup real mayonnaise

Toast bread crumbs in small skillet over low heat until lightly browned. Combine with light cream, horseradish, salt and Tabasco. Let stand until bread crumbs are soft. Fold in real mayonnaise. Chill. Makes about ¾ cup sauce. Serve on cold sliced meat.

MUSTARD SAUCE

1 cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix mayonnaise, lemon juice, mustard and salt. Fold in heavy cream. Makes about 1⅔ cups sauce. Serve over cold fish or meat.

SPICY EGG SAUCE

5 hard cooked eggs, chopped
⅓ cup real mayonnaise
¼ cup sweet relish
¼ cup hot ketchup

Combine all ingredients. Makes about 2 cups. Use as a topping or spread.

CHEESE MAYONNAISE

¼ cup real mayonnaise
½ cup cottage cheese
1 teaspoon chopped chives
¼ teaspoon dill weed

Combine ingredients. Serve over desired sandwiches or spread on bread and garnish with radish and cucumber slices.

Cake, Gingerbread—And History

There's no doubt about it—February is quite a month for birthdays—George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and numerous other famous men.

So what is more fitting than some delectable recipes that bear familiar names—Martha Washington Cake, for instance — or Lincoln's Gingerbread Loaf—Well, here they are, and you'll be using these recipes frequently.

MARTHA WASHINGTON CAKE

1½ cups golden raisins
1 cup dried currants
1 jar (about 1 pound) mixed, diced, candied fruit
¼ cup brandy flavoring
2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup softened butter
1 cup sugar
5 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
2½ tablespoons sherry

Soak raisins and currants in water overnight. Drain and dry when ready to use, and mix with candied fruit. Pour brandy flavoring over fruit mixture; cover and let stand for a few hours. Sift flour, mace and nutmeg together. Set aside. Cream butter. Add ½ cup sugar, a little at a time, beating until smooth. Place egg yolks in a large mixing bowl. Beat until thick and light. Beat in remaining ½ cup of sugar, a little at a time and add lemon juice. Combine with butter-sugar mixture. Add dry ingredients alternately with the sherry, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in fruit and brandy flavoring. Beat egg whites until stiff and not dry. Fold into batter. Pour mixture into a greased and floured mold or a large (9 in. x 12 in.) loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 20 minutes then reduce heat to 325 degrees F. and continue baking 1 hour and 10 minutes. To test for doneness, insert a cake tester or toothpick in the center of the cake. If it comes out dry, the cake is done. Turn out on a cake rack to cool. If an even richer, Colonial-style cake is desired, wrap cake in a cheesecloth, soaked in sherry, and store in an air-tight tin for a month. If cheese cloth dries out, soak it again with sherry and re-wrap the cake. Recipe makes 5½ pounds of cake.

LINCOLN GINGERBREAD LOAF

5 tablespoons butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup molasses
1¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ cup buttermilk
Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 teaspoon ginger

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Add sugar and beat until cream-colored. Beat in egg until smooth; beat in molasses. Sift flour with spices and soda, and stir into batter alternately with buttermilk, starting and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in lemon juice and rind, and pour batter into a greased 9 in. x 5 in. loaf pan. Bake in a moderate (350 degree F.) oven for 40 to 50 minutes, or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out dry. Serve with whipped cream. Sprinkle with ginger.

A Delicious Plum Dessert

PLUM MERINGUES

Meringues:

4 egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine egg whites and cream of tartar in a large bowl. Beat egg whites on highest speed of mixer until frothy then begin gradually adding sugar, 1 tablespoon per minute. When sugar has been completely added, add vanilla and beat 1 minute longer. The egg whites should hold stiff peaks. Shape the meringe into eight nests on a greased, flour-dusted baking sheet. Bake in a very slow oven (250 degrees) for 1 hour 30 minutes. Turn off heat and dry shells 3 to 4 hours in the oven.

Filling:

2 cans or jars (1 lb. each) purple plums
1 can or jar (1 lb.) light sweet cherries
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup dairy sour cream.

Drain ¾ cup syrup from plums. Combine halved or quartered, pitted plums and halved, pitted cherries with cornstarch; stir until smooth. Add syrup. Cook over low heat, stirring until mixture comes to a boil. Boil 1 minute. Cool. Add sour cream; chill. Spoon into meringue shells. Eight servings.

MISS DELORES CHRISTENSEN

The engagement of Miss Delores Christensen of Lincoln to Frank D. Mikos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Mikos is announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Christensen of Holstein.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, June 8, and the ceremony will take place in Holstein.

Miss Christensen attended Kearney State College, where she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority, and now is on the staff of the Nebraska Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Mikos is a junior at Peru State College.

Snoflake Carnival

All junior high school students in the city can begin making plans right now for attending the annual Snoflake Carnival and dance sponsored by the Junior Inter-Club Council of the Lincoln Y-Teens.

The carnival will be held at the Lincoln YWCA on two nights from 7:30 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock — Friday, Feb. 23, for all seventh graders; and Saturday, Feb. 24, for eighth and ninth graders.

"Flower Power" has been chosen as the theme for the carnival, which will feature a variety of booths and games, and music for dancing will be provided by the "Dynamic Sounds" combo.

The carnival is not a "date" affair, but semi-formal dress is required. Benefits from the event will help finance Y-Teen programs.

It's 'Busy As Usual' For Suburbia

It's pretty hard to believe that just one week from today will be the last day of February and the thought of mentioning March which we shall be doing after next Wednesday, reminds one that spring is not so far away. But, before we get too carried away with thoughts of things to come, we'd like to mention the fact that there have been some pretty exciting things happening in suburbian recently.

In Park Manor, for example, a brithday celebration was the cause of activity at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams last week. Mr. and Mrs. Adams' son, Mark, became a 12-year-old on February 13, and was honored at a party given at his home last Friday. Helping Mark observe the anniversary was Kent Bauer, Kip Bigsby and Tim Harold, who were guests for a pizza supper and an 'over-night.'

Undanted by what we imaging was a rather sleepless night, the boys arose at the crack of dawn to help Tim with his paper route, and then returned for a very welcome breakfast served by Mrs. Adams.

Entertaining out-of-town guests seems to be a year-round pastime for suburban residents, and the month of February has proved to be no exception to the rule. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colburn of Fiene Heights were host and hostess recently to some relatives who were visiting in Lincoln from Clarinda, Iowa. Here for an extended weekend were Mrs. Charles Nelson and Mrs. C. W. Murdock.

Mr. and Mrs. Colburn and their guests took one day off for a trip to Superior where they visited with Mr. Colburn's mother, Mrs. G. C. Colburn.

MISS LITA ANNETTE GOODMAN

Town and campus circles will be particularly interested this morning in the announcement being made by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Goodman of the betrothal of their daughter, Lita Annette, to Marshall Abrahams, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Abrahams of Omaha.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Both Miss Goodman and her fiance are junior students at the University of Nebraska, where the bride-elect is studying elementary education. Mr. Abrahams is majoring in business administration.

TALK around the town

When Uncle Sam points a finger anything can happen — and almost always does. Uncle Sam points — and a wedding date is changed — it's as simple as that.

The finger was pointed at Dennis H. Stelzer just recently, and that means that instead of being a summer bridegroom, as planned, Mr. Stelzer and his fiancee, Miss Susan Steckley, have changed their plans.

Miss Steckley tells us that the wedding now will take place on March 16, and the ceremony will be solemnized at a candlelight service at the Vine Congregational Church.

For her maid of honor Miss Steckley has chosen Miss Linda Gibbs of Nebraska City, and the bridesmatrons and bridesmaid will be Mrs. Harlan Fenske of Omaha; Mrs. Donald Peterson of Wayne, and Miss Jayne Newhouser, also of Omaha.

Dennis Tonniges of Moline, Ill., will serve as best man, and the ushers will be the bridegroom's brother, James Stelzer of Elk Creek; Donald Doescher and Thomas Schleuter.

* * *

Regardless of the change in the wedding date there are courtesies already planned for Miss Steckley.

The first of the courtesies will be a bridesmaid luncheon for which Miss Steckley's grandmother, Mrs. Burnham Campbell will be hostess at the Lincoln Country Club on Saturday, March 9.

On Sunday, March 10, the bride-elect will again be complimented when Mrs. Lyle A. Rolofson, Mrs. Lyle Rolofson Jr., Miss Linda Gibbs, Miss Jayne Newhouse and Mrs. Donald Peterson will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Rolfson, Sr. The 4 o'clock party will be a miscellaneous shower and the guest list will include Alpha Omicron Pi sisters of the bride-to-be.

* * *

Remember that March Hare we talked about the other day? Well, it seems that he isn't putting in an appearance until a week from Saturday evening. That's when the members of the Holiday Club will dine and dance at the Lincoln Country Club.

We hear that a surprise is in store for the members of the University of Nebraska Faculty Dancing Club members Saturday evening, when the group will meet for dinner and dancing at the Hotel Lincoln.

Planning the surprise are Dr. and Mrs. James Williams and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Mattern, who are in charge of party arrangements, assisted by Dr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Peo, Dr. and Mrs. Jason Webster, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Steinacher and Dr. and Mrs. Alfredo Roldan.

Abby: a very lucky mailman

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We are an elderly couple, and childless. We have lots of nieces and nephews who were brought to our small place when they were young. We loved them and kissed away their bruises and always remembered them with nice gifts at Christmastime and birthdays and so on. Now they are grown men and women with families of their own, and we are quite forgotten. We have written them letters, which were all ignored. However we are still on their Christmas card list, altho none of them has ever taken the extra five minues to add a personal line or two.

We never lived extravagantly with fancy automobiles or showy homes. Never took expensive vacations as we like it here. We gave to charities, modestly, but never appeared rich because of the many dangers that threaten rich folks. We enjoy simple pleasures like gardening and cozy nights around a fireplace. We have watched the mailbox for years for letters from our "kids," but none have come, save their printed store-bought cards at Christmastime.

Our best friend is our mailman. On several occasions he has rung our bell, wanting to know if we were all right because he didn't see us stirring inside. Last Christmas he bought me a nice pipe and a can of tobacco. And he gave the Mrs. some powder and perfume. We gave him a turkey as he has a good wife and five small children. One day he is going to get a real big surprise. Abby, because in our will we have left our mailman $60,000. The rest will go to our church, crippled children, and the blind. Our relatives will get nothing because they gave nothing of themselves.

South	West	North	East

3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
Pass	Dble

Opening lead — five of hearts.

Call it instinct, or feel, or logic, or what have you, but the fact is that a first-rate declarer usually works out the best line of play even though he lacks the advantage of seeing the opposing hands.

For example, look at this hand where South wound up in four hearts doubled and made it. West made a good choice when he led a trump; otherwise, South would have made the contract easily. East took the ace and returned a trump, won in dummy.

Declarer led a club to the queen and West made a good play again when he ducked. Had he taken the ace, South would have made ten tricks without much effort (a spade, a spade ruff, five hearts, a diamond and two clubs).

South was now at the critical point in the play. He realized that if he cashed the ace of spades and ruffed a spade in dummy, he would inevitably come to a dead end and go down one. He would eventually lose three spade tricks by playing in this fashion.

He also knew by this time approximately how the opponents' cards were divided. East had shown up with the ace of hearts and was marked by the bidding with a long string of diamonds. West had to have the ace of clubs and the missing spade strength for his double. All that remained for South to do was to take advantage of this knowledge.

He first cashed the ace of diamonds and then led the queen of spades. West took the king and returned a diamond.

Declarer ruffed the diamond and then trumped a spade in dummy. Next he led the king of clubs and discarded a spade on it.

West had to take the ace, but was now reduced to an unpleasant choice of returns. He was forced to lead either a club to dummy's jack or a spade to declarer's A-10, and either play was bound to give South his tenth trick.

RITA'S MAIL BOX

Dear Rita: I read the inquiry about the poem "High In The Court Of Heaven." I have it and will send it later for Mrs. Slater. I have about five minutes and must leave for work. If you could phone her and tell her to get the book "Don't Call a Man a Dog" by Will Judy, it would be nice. The book may be purchased from Judy Publishing Company. Sorry for the haste. She could also get the book at the library or dog supply store. Sincerely, "A Dog Lover," Lincoln.

Dear Dog Lover: I called Mrs. Slater. She was very happy to get your message and is eagerly awaiting the poem. Would you be so kind as to include the address of the Judy Publishing Company? Thank you very much, Dog Lover.

Dear Rita: Just read your column asking for hints. The idea of the fork for recipes is a good one. Here is one our Cub Scouts made for their mothers for Christmas.

We took caps from spray cans, about a 9 inch dowel, 3/8 inch, set it in the cap, fill the cap with plaster of paris. Let harden. Take a wire (thin), run through the hole in a spring type clothespin, and wire it to the top of the dowel, upside down.

You may spray these, we sprayed ours gold. Make several, they are handy for grocery lists, "don't forgets", and recipes. Enjoy your column. Assistant Den Mother.

Thank you, Assistant Den Mother. I think your idea is a "Jim Dandy". It is easy to make, costs very little, can be made in a short time and is so handy. And, this is a good gadget for the younger folks to make for gifts. Readers, why not make some for yourselves and some to give as gifts? Grandmothers could use one and would cherish one made by a grandchild.

Spring type clothespins are handy for so many things besides holding up the laundry. They make nice bookmarks and are excellent for holding notes. For instance, nail one to your door to hold the notes callers might wish to leave when they do not find you at home. We nailed one to the inside of the lid of our milk box so we could leave directions for the milk man.

Here is an idea from Mrs. H.A.K., of Lincoln. She says, "Did you know that a shot of Hair Spray is excellent for keeping those feather flower bouquets in good condition? It protects the feathers from dust and does not harm them."

Several people have written asking to be paid for their contributions to the column. Somewhere they got the idea that we pay one dollar for hints, etc. We do love to get your hints, ideas and your questions, but we have never mentioned and do not give remuneration in any form. We do not have a fund for such a purpose. We like to think of this as "your column" and hope that you will continue to contribute to it as before. We are in need of new ideas and hints. Won't you please help?

Send your hints, questions and answers to Rita in care of The Lincoln Star. Send your real name, but if you would rather we didn't use it send a pen name also.

Would-Be Hijacker Stopped At Airport

Melbourne, Fla. (UPI) — A would-be airplane hijacker was foiled in an attempt to take off for Cuba Wednesday when the manager of an airport seated himself on the tail of the plane and prevented it from leaving the ground.

Taken into custody was George Richard Patrick, 23, of Melbourne. He was identified by sheriff's deputies as a clerk with the Florida Power and Light Co.

He was held in lieu of $6,500 bond and charged with breaking and entering with intent to kill, robbery of a car and of a plane.

Deputies said Patrick broke into his ex-wife's apartment about 1 a.m. and held her and her male companion at gunpoint with a German-made revolver until about dawn, when they drove to an airfield in nearby Rockledge.

At 8 a.m. Gerald Magar, the proprietor, arrived to open for business.

"He was waiting for me when I got there," Magar said "He forced me to give him the keys to a Cessna and told me to fly them all to Cuba. I refused and he shot at my feet, twice.

Police Called

"He pushed the Cessna over to the gas pump and at that point I slipped away and called police," Magar said.

While Magar was on the phone, Patrick started up the plane and it started moving down the runway.

"I knew I had to stop him, so I grabbed a gun and ran out and sat on the plane's tail — to hold it on the ground. Then I got the drop on him with my gun and held him until police arrived," Magar said.

Patrick was a student pilot and Magar was his instructor. Police said they did not know why Patrick wanted to fly to Cuba.

Brother Of 2 Killed In War Is Deferred

Medford, Ore. (AP)—The Jackson County draft board gave a one-year deferment Wednesday to Douglas T. Rowden, 19, brother of two men who died in Vietnam.

The local board gave the youth a compassionate hardship deferment during a closed hearing. The youth earlier had been ordered to undergo a pre-induction physical.

Mrs. Harvey Rowden, the mother, presented petitions with nearly 1,000 signatures to the board Tuesday, recommending a deferment.

Her two older boys, James and John, were killed in combat while serving in the Marine Corps. Both were 21 when they died.

Tiemann Addresses Auto Parts Makers

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — Business and government have to work together, Nebraska Gov. Norbert Tiemann said Wednesday, because neither can stand alone.

This is borne out, he told a small group of presidents of automotive equipment manufacturing companies, by the fact that "the degree of freedom enjoyed by industry generally relates back to the industry's interest and involvement in the legislative process."

Tiemann spoke to the Automotive President's Council of Manufactures Association.

He said businessmen can help state and local government by serving on boards and commissions or as advisers to government leaders.

And he said government's role "in creating an attractive business climate" includes programs in manpower training and educaton, financing and research."

Tiemann told the executives that one way to put more emphasis on vocational-technical schooling is "to erase the stigma that just dumb kids go to these institutions."

Another pitfall, he said, is for a state to overlook any needs to elementary and secondary education while building great universities.

ABC Electric Co. Said Low Bidder On Traffic Signals

For the traffic signal work at 56th and Adams, ABC bid $7,059, compared to Commonwealth Electric, $7,371 and Energy Enterprises, Inc., $9,068.

ABC bid $5,128 to install school signals at 46th and Adams; Cotner Blvd. and Huntington and 33rd, between Calvert and Stockwell. Commonwealth bid $5,297 and Energy Enterprises, $7,995.

Other bids received by the city Wednesday:

—Laundry service for Lincoln General Hospital (four-year contract): Globe Laundry, six cents per pound and Paramount Laundry, six cents per pound. The city purchasing office said the Paramount bid included exceptions to the specications.

—Asphalt cement, 80,000 gallons, for the paving repair department: Carter-Waters Corp. Kansas City, Mo., 10.98c per gallon (only bidder).

Valuation Decline Of 10-13% Seen Under $2,000 Homestead Exemption

. . . ACCORDING TO TAX RESEARCH UNIT

A survey of towns in an unnamed but "representative" Nebraska county has indicated that a $2,000 homestead exemption last year would have reduced assessed valuations by amounts ranging from 10 to nearly 13%, the Nebraska Tax Research Council reported Wednesday.

Nebraska voters in November will ballot on a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to grant partial tax exemptions for homes occupied by their owners.

Analyzing the proposal in a newsletter, the non-profit tax research organization noted that the 1960 census indicated that 64.8% of the housing units in Nebraska were owner-occupied. The figures varied from a low of 60.2% in the Lincoln urbanized area, to 70.5% in the rural nonfarm areas (which include all towns under 2,500 population).

To what extent exemption might be granted if the homestead constitutional amendment is approved by voters will be up to the Legislature.

But for study purposes, the council assumed that the first $2,000 of actual value would be exempted. Applying this assumption to the six towns studied, the lowest percentage drop in assessed valuation was calculated to be 10.1% (in a town of 1,021 population) and the highest at 12.7% (in a town of 231 population).

In a second calculation, the council assumed that 20% of actual value would be exempted, with a $2,000 maximum. In this case, the valuation losses ranged from 4.7% to 5.9%.

Analyze Exemption

The council also analyzed another tax-related constitutional amendment up for vote in November — authorizing the Legislature to classify personal property and exempt any or all such property from taxation.

"From visiting with many people, it appears that many who are not closely connected with taxation are not aware of what is included in the term, 'personal property taxes,' " the council said.

Actually, taxes on personal property represent "a much larger segment of total property taxes than many people realize," the council said.

Based on 1967 figures and estimates, personal property taxes currently represent some $76 million or more than one-fourth of total property taxes, the report indicated.

Principal general types of personal property were listed as farm machinery, livestock and feeds, business personal property, motor vehicles, and special schedules such as telephone and pipeline companies, utility franchises and railroad properties.

Charges Dropped

NU Law Student Chosen To Head Youth For Nixon

Daniel Wherry of Lincoln has been named chairman of the Youth for Nixon Committee in Nebraska. it was announced Wednesday..

Wherry, 24, is a junior law student at the University of Nebraska. His appointment was made by George Cook, state chairman of the Nixon for President Committee.

Just One More

Wellington, New Zealand (AP) — Mrs. Tina Tengu of Ngaruawahia, has just had her 21st baby and says she would like just one more. She and her husband, a sheep-shearing contractor, have been married 28 years and of the 21 children two have died, four are married, and there are five grandchildren. House OKs Removing Money's Gold Backing

Washington (UPI) — The House voted Wednesday to remove the gold cover backing U.S. currency, releasing $10.7 billion in bullion now stored in Ft. Knox for use in strengthening the dollar.

After hearing pleas that "worldwide depression" could result unless they approved the legislation proposed by President Johnson, members voted to remove a requirement that every U.S. dollar be backed by 25-cents in gold.

$12.1 Billion

Johnson proposed removing the 25% gold backing to free the gold now held in reserve because of the requirement. The United States has $12.1 billion in gold but all but $1.4 of it is held in Ft. Knox to back the U.S. currency.

In proposing the gold cover removal, the administration argued it would free bullion held in reserve to meet foreign commitments and thus discourage gold speculation by reaffirming the U.S. resolve to hold the gold price at $35 an ounce.

The United States has been off the gold standard domestically since 1934 and Americans cannot buy gold except for industrial or artistic purposes.

Depression Predicted

The administration warned killing the bill would touch off speculation that the government would devalue the dollar by raising its gold price above $35 an ounce.

If that happens, chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee, floor manager of the measure, predicted the possibility of "the worst worldwide depression in history."

Before approving the measure, the House defeated on a 206-188 roll-call vote a move to kill the bill by returning it to the House Banking Committee. Members also drummed down two GOP compromise amendments to reduce the 25% reserve requirement to 18.75% and 12.5%.

Republicans, led by House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford said removing the gold cover was like using "a band-aid to cure a cancerous condition." Other Republicans said the government should prevent dollars from leaving the country primarily through controlling inflation by reducing government spending.

Kirk Plans Meeting With Florida Teachers

Miami (UPI) — Gov. Claude Kirk took personal command of Florida's school crises Wednesday, setting up a confrontation with striking teachers and making clear he had no intention of meeting their money demands.

Kirk called the walkout, the first statewide strike by teachers in the nation's history, a "pilot" project on the part of unionists.

He said the National Education Association (NEA) already has announced plans for "350 teacher strikes this year" and that Florida is just being used as a testing ground.

Kirk an unannounced but active candidate for the Republican vice presidential nomination, was to address teachers later Wednesday night at Miami's huge Marina Stadium on Biscayne Bay. He was under fire in some quarters because he had been out of the state in recent days on a political trip through the West.

The Republican governor said he wanted to establish a "governor-teachers" dialogue, and that if he succeeded here — where most of the state's population is concentrated — he would take his campaign into other areas.

Kirk said that although he considers the statewide "resignation" of teachers a strike, his role is not as a "strike-breaker," but as the chief executive. He is concerned that each child has a chance for a proper education.

The three-day walkout has resulted in a forced vacation for thousands of Florida children and has aroused students and adults alike.

Sen. Fulbright Says Mcnamara Deceiving Public

© New York Times Service

Washington — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, accused Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara Wednesday of deceiving the American public by presenting a one-sided story of the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin incidents.

The senator suggested that the defense secretary was suppressing information that cast doubt on whether two American destroyers were under North Vietnamese attack in August, 1964.

At the same time he challenged the reliability of what McNamara called "highly classified and unimpeachable" intelligence information demonstrating beyond doubt that the destroyers had been attacked.

McNamara presented the intelligence information Tuesday as the committee began hearings into the administration's handling of the Tonkin incidents.

The incidents, involving North Vietnamese attacks on Aug. 2 and Aug. 4 against U.S. destroyers, marked a turning point in the American involvement in the Vietnam war and led to the decision to bomb North Vietnam.

The committee is wanting to know whether the administration had sufficient proof of the second attack on the destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy to warrant its decision to order air strikes against North Vietnam and to obtain congressional approval of the Tonkin resolution endorsing "all necessary measures" taken by the executive branch to repel future aggression.

Dubs it 'A Classic'

The McNamara statement, the senator said, was "a classic example of selective declassification of security material, everything related to the Tonkin incidents is 'secret' except that which the Pentagon deems should be made public. This, I believe, deceives the American public."

For example, Fulbright noted, McNamara has kept secret information about the sonar on the Maddox that raises questions about the detection of torpedoes and has kept classified messages from the destroyer task force that indicated doubts about the second attack.

But at the same time, he went on, McNamara saw fit to release secret intelligence information obtained by monitoring North Vietnamese radio circuits.

In reply to Fulbright, the Pentagon Wednesday evening said, "The charge the Defense Department has suppressed information suggesting no attacks were made on the destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy in the Gulf of Tonkin is totally without foundation."

Fulbright also accused the department of "intimidating" practices against Naval officers wishing to supply information to the committee.

He disclosed that a Navy officer was ordered to take a psychiatric examination after he conferred with the committee staff and raised questions as to whether there was evidence substantiating the Aug. 4 attack.

The Navy officer was found mentally sound, the senator said, but such action represents "a threat to anyone who is willing to tell the truth about this or any other incidents."

Study Asserts Ship Ordered To Take Provocative Action

© New York Times Service

Washington—A study prepared by the staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee asserts that the destroyer Maddox was under orders in 1964 to take provocative action to induce the Chinese Communists and North Vietnamese to turn on their radio and radar equipment so the destroyer could monitor them.

This finding led Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to take issue Wednesday on the Senate floor with testimony by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on Aug. 6, 1964, and again Tuesday in which McNamara said the Maddox was "on routine patrol."

"He calls it a 'routine patrol,'" Morse said. "The Maddox was a spy ship under instruction to stimulate the electronic instruments of North Vietnam to carry out a spying activity. That is not a routine patrol for a destroyer . . . the United States was a provocateur in the Gulf of Tonkin on Aug. 4, 1964, and history will so record."

According to the staff study, the Maddox, which had gone on patrol on July 28, was under orders from the commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific "to stimulate Chicom-North Vietnamese electronic reaction."

Salute Refused

Bangalore, India (AP) — Platoons of boys and girls from the National Cadet Corps refused to salute the Indian flag during independence celebrations, and an inquiry was ordered. It found they were protesting against being given commands in Hindi, the officially imposed national language, instead of English, which is generally accepted in regional non-Hindi-speaking areas.

Nixon: Soviets Closing Missile Gap

La Crosse, Wis. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon said Wednesday the Soviet Union has more than doubled its land-based strategic missile force in the last year, and is now approaching equality with the United States in these weapons.

"It's time for President Johnson to tell the American people whether U.S. strategic policy has been changed along with the secretary of defense," Nixon told a Republican rally in La Crosse Wednesday evening.

New Job On April 1

Washington (UPI) — Outgoing Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will take over as president of the World Bank on April 1, officials at the bank said.

Communication Network In State Seen By Aug. 1

He said plans are to award contracts this spring. Facilities will be leased.

The integrated network, which represents a pioneering venture in state communications, will initially link a 25-county area in south-central and southeast Nebraska. Eventually it will tie the entire state together.

Key units in the system will be control centers at Lincoln and Grand Island. Agencies will have access to the network by radio, telephone and teleprinter.

The U.S. Civil Defense office has authorized $127,920 for the project. The state will put up a like amount.

Ten Students At NU Given Scholarships

The recipients were announced by Dr. Lee Witters, assistant professor of secondary education at the university, who said selection is based on scholarship, interest in the teaching profession, and participation in student activities.

Three Tracts Of State Land Sold At Auction

Three tracts of state school land in Frontier County, totaling 1,040 acres, were sold at public auction Tuesday, the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds reported Wednesday.

Two of the tracts went for prices higher than the minimum set by the board.

The sales included 400 acres to Ralph E. Moore of Bartley for $69.50 per acre, compared with a minimum of $60; 320 acres to Ernest W. Meissner of McCook for $57.20 per acre, compared with a minimum of $52, and 320 acres to Buddy M. Lashley of McCook for the minimum of $57.50 per acre.

The board also announced that four Dawes County tracts totaling 1,440 acres will be auctioned at the courthouse in Chadron March 8.

Omaha Man Files For Legislature From 7th District

Joseph Benesh of Omaha Wednesday filed with the secretary of state as a nominee for the State Legislature from the Seventh District.

Incumbant William Skarda Jr. already has filed for nomination in the May 14 primary.

Also filing were Orville Brandt of Scottsbluff as an uncommitted delegate to the Republican National Convention from the Third Congressional District.

NU Announces Results Of Bids On Recital Hall

Apparent low bids totaling $672,206 were announced by the University of Nebraska Wednesday for the construction of an 800-seat music recital hall on the downtown campus to be partially financed by federal funds.

The federal government will pay for one-third of the cost of Kimball Recital Hall, which will be constructed directly east of the Westbrook Music Building at 11th and R Sts. and will be connected to it by a covered walkway and tunnel.

M. W. Anderson Construction Co. submitted the low bid of $505,095 on the general contract. Other bidders for the contract were George Cook Construction Co., bidding $524,937; Kingery Construction Co. with $571,900; Olson Construction Co. with $579,555, and Myers Construction Co. with $584,348.

Apparent low bidder on the mechanical contract was Newberg and Bookstrom, who made a bid of $102,767.

A bid of $19,844 by O'Keefe Elevator was the only bid for the construction of an equipment elevator in the recital hall, NU officials said.

Bids will be awarded by the Board of Regents at its Friday meeting at the College of Medicine in Omaha, but the bids are subject to approval by a federal review board.

150,000 West Berliners Cheer In Pro-U.S. Rally

Berlin (UPI) — Mayor Klaus Schuetz Wednesday told a cheering crowd of 150,000 West Berliners in John F. Kennedy Platz that "we will not allow anyone to spit on American shoes here.'

15 to 1 Edge

About 10,000 leftists demonstrated last Sunday in protest against U.S. involvement in Vietnam. America's supporters Wednesday outnumbered its opponents last Sunday by about 15 to 1.

The demonstrators carried U.S. flags and banners which read, 'We thank you, U.S.A." and "Americans keep us free."

One banner said, "Robert Kennedy to the White House."

"We are allied to the United States by ties of friendship and thanks," Schuetz said.

Protector of Freedom

"The United States is involved in a tragic war in Vietnam. It is here in Berlin to protect our freedom," Schuetz said. "We will not allow anyone to spit on American shoes here."

The crowd booed loudly at any mention of the leftist students who are so unpopular in Berlin that they are frequently compared to the Nazis, because of their tactics of violence and intolerance.

Walter Sickert, head of the West Berlin branch of the German labor union federation, reminded the rally that American pilots risked their lives to feed the city during the 1948-49 Soviet blockade.

Sickert said the leftists who marched Sunday were not really interested in Vietnam. He said they only want "to give the axe to the roots of our state's democratic order."

There were a few fistfights and schuffling at the rally as some leftists distributed leaflets. Police said 33 persons were arrested.

The rally was jointly sponsored by the city government, political parties, labor unions and other civic groups.

Paint Thrown At Americans By Students

Brighton, England (AP) —Students demonstrating against the Vietnam war threw red paint over a U.S. Embassy official and his daughter outside the University of Sussex on Wednesday.

"I have had a suit, a hat and a topcoat ruined," Beers told a newsman later. "My daughter, who started today as a blonde, is now a redhead."

Waverly Youth Pleads Innocent To Driving Count

A Waverly youth, charged with motor vehicle homicide in connection with the Dec. 23 one-car accident which claimed the life of Mary Barnes, pleaded innocent in Lancaster District Court Wednesday.

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele set trial for John Applegarth, 18, for the jury term beginning March 4 or as soon as the case can be reached.

To Jail For 'Insult'

Berlin (AP) — "Insulting police authority in public" got a 25-year-old East German waiter 10 months in prison, the Potsdam newspaper Maerkische Volksstimme reported. It said he was drunk, used abusive language and offered to slug two Communist police.

John Bartlett, Electric Firm Founder, Dies

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Wadlow's Mortuary, 1225 L.

A native of Minnesota, Mr. Bartlett moved to Lincoln in 1912 and founded the Sterling Electric Co.

He was a former vice president of the Independent Electrical Contractors Association and a member of Westminster Presbyterian Church. Mr. Bartlett is a former member of the Elks Lodge and the Knights of Pythias.

He is survived by his wife, Emma C.; sisters, Minnie Heide of San Antonio, Tex., Alice Chinn of Kansas City, Mo., and nephew, Bob Colin Sr. of Lincoln.

Plea Of Innocent Entered By Coed To Drug Charge

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele set trial for Patricial L. Lilly for the jury term beginning March 4 or as soon as the case can be reached.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the etters under the checked figures gives you.

Football Union May Bargain

. . . WITH PRO GRID LEAGUE

New York (AP)—The National Football League agreed Wednesday to recognize the NFL Players' Association as the exclusive bargaining agent for the athletes, pending verification of an unbiased check of membership.

The agreement, announced jointly by Ted Kheel, labor consultant for the owners, and Dan Shulman, labor counsel for the players, was announced after a meeting between representatives of the two groups.

Both sides emphasized the step was only a formal procedure that would lead up to bargaining on basic issues.

"We have the cards from the players," said Shulman.

"We know we have a majority. This is an attempt not to bog down in formalities. We hope to get the matter settled in a week and get down to bargaining in March."

"We have no doubt about the cards from the players," said Kheel, "but we agreed that the eligibility should be certified by an unbiased organization. The American Arbitration Association will check and verify all the cards from the players as to authenticity and advise us.

"The owners authorized the committee headed by President Art Modell, Cleveland owner, and Wellington Mara, president of the New York Giants to take this step after long discussions Monday and Tuesday."

Shulman declined to list the players' demands that will eventually come up for arbitration. However, it had been announced previously that the goals included a $15,000 minimum salary, $500 a game for exhibitions and an annual $5 million contribution to the pension fund.

Shulman said he thought it was the first time an organized sport had given formal recognition to a players' group for collective bargaining.

The players' association announced in Miami in January it was becoming an independent union. Cards had been sent out to the 685 members who pay $100 annual dues, asking if they agreed to accept the association as their bargaining agent.

"We intend to utilize every means available under the law to reach an agreement," said Shulman. "We anticipate we will be able to reach an agreement."

Shulman, 34, whose firm represents many labor unions in Chicago, emphasized that individual salary bargaining between players and owners will continue.

"This is not a classic union pattern," he said. "Our membership has many things common to everybody. Our concern is more with pension plans and share of receipts of postseason games and, of course, a minimum salary. We anticipate no demand for a union shop."

LARRY'S NEW PIRATES

Tigers Corral 20th Victory

. . . FOR FIRST TIME EVER

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Crete—Doane's Tigers hit the 20-victory circle for the first time in the school's history Wednesday night with a hard-fought 94-87 victory over Nebraska Wesleyan in the Crete High School gym.

The victory boosts Doane's record to 20-4 for the campaign and the Tigers will conclude their regular season Friday night here against Midland. After that comes the district playoffs with Wayne, to be set at a district committee meeting Friday.

Wesleyan held the lead for most of the first half by playing a controlled offense that broke Jerry James and Bob Hahn underneath early but then Doane started getting the rebounds and setting the pace of the game by speeding up the tempo to take a 43-39 halftime lead.

Doane outscored Wesleyan, 15-6, midway through the last half to expand a 51-48 lead to 66-54 with 9½ minutes remaining to finally get some breathing room. The Tigers' biggest lead was at 74-59 but Wesleyan wouldn't give up.

Doane's Leslie Grant, who led a 61-38 Tiger rebound edge with 17 recoveries, left on fouls with 2:06 to go and Doane ahead, 88-78. Loren Coate hit a bucket to make it 90-78 with 1:49 to go before Wesleyan ripped off seven straight points.

A three-point play by Bob Hahn, and outside buckets by Kim Busch and Dick Hahn cut it to 90-85 with 48 seconds left but then Jackie Owen and Terry Egger hit two free throws apiece. Keith Maurer's tip-in at the buzzer made Wesleyan lose by the identical score it did to Hastings Monday night.

"When we set the pace up, things got a little better," said Doane coach Bob Erickson. "But our strong game is on those boards. These kids aren't afraid to fight; they're really competitive. We played like we were behind when we had that comparatively safe lead and Grant's loss hurt us; he's a steadying influence."

James hit four of his seven buckets for the evening in the first nine minutes as NWU built six-point leads at 14-8 and 20-14 and a seven-point spread at 23-16.

From three minutes into the game until just over five minutes remained in the half, the Plainsmen led, although Doane tied it five times.

Two minutes before the half, Jackie Owen hit a long jumper to tie it at 39-all. Terry Egger did the same thing before Grant hit a tip-in for the halftime score and Doane never trailed again.

In the second half, it was the whole Doane team from all over the court. All five starters hit in double figures to insure the Tiger's third win this season and their ninth in the last 10 games against NWU, now 10-12 with three to play.

Purse Money High

Columbia, Ohio (AP) — Purse money for harness racing in the United States and Canada reached a record high of $61,851,457 in 1967, the U.S Trotting Association reported Monday

Greene To Compete In Lincoln Saturday

Horse Racing

Arcadia, Calif. (AP) — Sixteen horses were entered Wednesday in the San Luis Obispo Handicap at Santa Anita and the track announced the Washington's birthday feature would be run in two divisions.

Originally billed as a $50,000 added stakes, each division now will have a $37,500-added purse. The distance is 2½ miles on the grass course.

New Garden Already Headed For Indoor Fight Crowd Mark

New York (AP)—The way the ticket sales are going for the big fistic doubleheader on March 4, the new Madison Square Garden appears on the way to a record indoor gate for a fight show.

"There's a lot of interest and the sales are going awfully well," said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing, Wednesday, of the card featuring middleweights Emile Griffith and Nino Benvenuti and undefeated heavyweights Joe Frazier and Buster Mathis.

In one breath Markson mentioned a projected gate of $600,000 to $700,000 and in the next he said, "don't pin me down on records."

The indoor record is $511,000 for the third Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight at Convention Hall in Miami Beach, March 13, 1961, says Al Bolan, who was one of the promoters of the fight, The Ring Record book lists the gross for that fight as $502,000.

"The 10s, 20s, and 30s are gone," said Markson, "and there is a brisk sale of the higher priced seats at $50, $75, and $100. But we still have plenty of seats to sell in that price range."

The Garden breakdown shows there are 4,300 seats at $10, 2,700 at $20 and 2,700 at $30, making a gross of $178,000 already for the 9,700 lower-priced seats.

With 2,200 seats at $50, 2,000 at $75 and 5,000 at $100, an 18,900 sellout could gross $938,000.

The record crowd for an indoor fight is 35,460 for the Cassius Clay-Cleveland Williams heavyweight fight that grossed $491,290 in the Houston Astrodome Nov. 14, 1966.

The four featured fighters will collect $505,000 of the ticket receipts but the Garden expects to fatten its receipts considerably with the national closed circuit telecasts to arenas and theaters and other ancillary rights.

Frazier and Griffith will receive $175,000 each, Benvenuti $80,000 and Mathis $75,000.

Griffith, the champion from New York, is a 7-5 betting choice over Benvenuti of Italy, in their third middleweight title clash, while Frazier now is a 2-1 favorite over Mathis in their bout for the heavyweight title, New York and Masachusetts version.

—THINCLAD AIMS FOR OLYMPICS—

Coyotes, Rattlers Pace Young

Casa Grande, Ariz. (AP) — Howling coyotes and frightened rattlesnakes provide the eerie chorus for distance runner George Young as he pads his way through early morning desert mists in preparation for the Summer Olympics.

Young, after 10 years of a tortuous, self-imposed training routine, has yet to lose in seven indoor races this year, winning six 2-mile events and another at three miles.

His best 2-mile time, going into this week's National AAU meet in Oakland, Calif., was 8:31.8 in Los Angeles. He clocked 13:31 in the Melrose Games' 3-miler.

Twice an Olympian, the 31-year-old high school science teacher already has been felled once by a bleeding ulcer in his pursuit of that most elusive and fleeting of goals — "'my very best effort."

So, at 6 o'clock every morning, Young dons sweat togs and takes to the dirt roads of the desert 10 miles outside Casa Grande. Sometimes it is so dark he can barely find his way.

"A lot of running is by starlight," said Young, "but I always look for the moon to be out so I can see the road.

"I have company," said Young of his daily seven to eight mile run. "The coyotes are always yipping and hollering, and when it's warm you can hear the rattlesnakes."

In the afternoon, Young goes through a 90-minute routine at the high school track which he calls his interval workout, running short distances against the clock.

For nine of the past 10 years, Young's training was simply a matter of self-discipline. He got no help or advice from anyone and set up his own program.

But since last fall, Young has worked with J. B. Fox, former track coach at Western New Mexico University, who has set up what is probably the most unusual track program in the country.

"Fox sends me the program for five days and I mail him my results and how I feel," said Young. "Mostly, he wants to know how I feel."

Why does Young, married and the father of a young son and daughter, do it?

Young, who had an undistinguished track career with the University of Arizona, says his almost evangelical approach to track began in 1959.

"It was after a meet with the Russians," recalls Young. "I got beat real bad. And that's when I started to train hard. I knew I could whip them."

Since then, he has been in two Olympic steeplechases. In 1960 he stumbled at a hurdle and finished back in the pack. He came in fifth in 1964.

However, Young feels now he may have been running the wrong race for the past 10 years and has not decided which race will be his specialty for this year's Olympics. It will probably be one of three: the 5,000 or 10,000 meters or the steeplechase.

Speaking of the Olympics, Young added thoughtfully, "I've always been a strong believer in goals, and my goal now is to see just how good I really am."

Iron Men

Twenty-two American League pitchers worked more than 200 innings during 1967. Dean Chance of the Minnesota Twins led the workhorse hurlers with 284 innings, 11 more than Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox.

Pack Of Veterans Block Kuebler's Birthday Plan

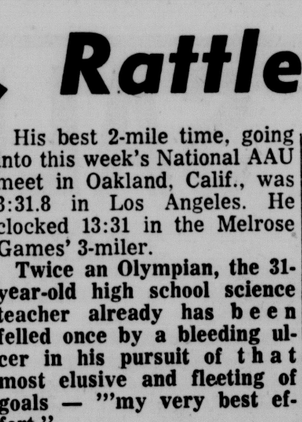
(Last of a Series)
By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Lincoln's John Kuebler, a veteran of Midwest Golden Gloves competition, finds himself faced with the task of getting by three other veterans this year in his bid to celebrate his 20th birthday with the 178-pound championship in the 35th annual tournament Friday and Saturday at the Omaha Civic Auditorium.

Kuebler, who will be 20 Saturday, is a solid favorite with Omaha fans, having earned their respect with his ability to take heavy bombing as a Southeast District alternate two years ago.

He lost in the finals to Paul Fisher at 160 pounds that year after finishing as a runner-up to Mike Fosdick in the Southeast District Tournament. A year ago, he was defeated in Omaha after winning the Southeast District middleweight title.

Moving up to the 178-pound ranks this year, Kuebler finds himself in a division with McCook's Larry Heckenlively, Omaha's Tony Novak and Norfolk's Dale Hixson, all veterans of the Omaha competition.



JOHN KUEBLER

The heavyweight division is the lightest, from an entry standpoint, of the 10 weight divisions with only four fighters figured to enter the ring.

The Scottsbluff District had no heavyweight contenders, South Dakota's Johnny Tuitama has decided not to compete in Omaha and the Lincoln entry, Jim Kuebler, older brother of John, likely will be forced to withdraw because he cannot reach the 179 pounds necessary to fight as a heavyweight.

Omaha's Ron Stander, a brawling belter who was runner-up a year ago, figures to outclass the remaining three entrants, James Milek of Norfolk, Norman Cobb of McCook and Bill Foster of Grand Island.

Anyone Stander can catch, he can paralyze. He was losing badly on points a year ago to Omahan Morris Jackson before he caught the tall heavyweight with 48 seconds left in the fight and KO'd him in their opening match.

Stander lost in the finals by decision to McCook Job Corps entry Fred Grogan. He gained the Midwest Tournament this year with a decision over Jackson in the Omaha City finals.

The entries:

178 Pounds

John Kuebler	Lincoln
Larry Heckenlively	McCook
Tony Novak	Omaha
Dale Hixson	Norfolk
Cicilio Navarro	Scottsbluff
Lonnie Jensen	Grand Island

Zambia Becomes 15th Withdrawal From Olympics

Lusaka, Zambia (AP) — Zambia became the 15th country Wednesday to declare it will boycott the Olympics in Mexico City this October because of the reinstatement of South Africa by the International Olympic Committee.

The other nations who have declared themselves out of the game are Kenya, Sudan, Iraq, Ethiopia, Algeria, Uganda, Tanzania, Ghana, Guinea, Mali, The Gambia, United Arab Republic, Syria and Somalia.

Zambia, once the British protectorate of Northern Rhodesia, became an independent republic in 1964.

Seven In Club

Seven pitchers in the American League struck out more than 200 batters during 1967. Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox led with 246. Runnerup in the strikeout derby was Sam McDowell of the Cleveland Indians with 236.

Phipps' Vitriolic Upset

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Calumet Farms' Forward Pass survived a foul claim to win the $30,250 Everglades Stakes by a head over Isador Bieber's Wise Exchange at Hialeah Wednesday in the final major test for the Flamingo on closing day.

Michael G. Phipps' Master Bold finished third, a neck further back and three lengths ahead of the Ogden Phipps' one to two favorite Vitriolic, in the field of eight Derby-age colts.

Jorge Velasquez on Master Bold claimed foul against jockey Donald Brumfield on Forward Pass, but the stewards did not allow it.

Forward Pass, under 117 pounds ran the distance of 1⅛ miles in 1:49, compared to Bold Ruler's track record of 1:47.

Weight Lifting

Kiev, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Russian Vladimir Golovanov broke the world middleweight weight lifting record for the press Wednesday with a lift of 378 pounds at the Soviet Armed Forces championships.

The old record of 375¾ pounds was set by Russia's K. Pumpurinish last Dec. 23.

Clay Center, Milligan Win

. . . ADVANCE TO D-15 FINALS AT GENEVA

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Clay Center topped Ohiowa, 58-49, after Milligan had edged Shickley, 44-42, in overtime in the evening's first encounter.

Talk about tournament jitters! Right after the tip to open the first scrap, Schickley grabbed a 2-1 lead. Six minutes later it was still 2-1.

Shickley still held a four-point, 19-15, intermission edge when the two clubs came back and opened up the second half with a repeat performance.

They each scored four counters during the first seven minutes of the third stanza.

Ohiowa had other plans for the finale and stayed with the bigger Wildcats for three quarters. The losers have only one senior on the entire squad and experience paid off in the end for Clay Center. The winners worked the ball for the good shot during the closing moments to break open the tight contest and ice the game.

Shickley	4	15	6	15-2	42

Shickley — Reinsch 18, Koch 19, Neuhaus 2, Biegert 2, Benson 1.

Patterson Grabs Bowling Lead

Tampa, Fla. (AP)—Eddy Patterson of Dallas took a 57-pin lead Wednesday night after two rounds in the Professional Bowlers Association $40,000 Sertoma Open.

Patterson's total after 12 games was 2663. Butch Gearhart of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was second with 2606, followed by Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., at 2596.

Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., who led after the first six games with 1342, slipped to 1206 in the second round and wound up in 11th place.

The 112-man field has 12 more games Thursday to pick 16 bowlers for Friday's match game semifinals. The high five then will go for the $6,000 first prize in Saturday's nationally televised finals.

Bradshaw, Dorchester Make District Finals

. . . REBOUNDING STRENGTH COUNTS

Utica — The form chart prevailed Wednesday night as Bradshaw and Dorchester posted semifinal round wins in the Class D District 14 tournament.

Bradshaw pushed its record to 15-4 as it stopped Hampton for the third time this season, 64-48. Dorchester hiked its record to 11-8 at the expense of Fairmont, 77-45.

The two teams return Friday night for an 8 p.m. championship contest and the right to advance to next week's regional playoff at Henderson.

Neither winner was able to take complete control until the second half. Both used the same tool, good rebounding, to fashion their wins.

Bradshaw finally asserted its superiority over Hampton in the last two minutes of the first half and took a 29-21 edge at the intermission. The Bulldogs kept the pressure on and were never threatened afterwards.

Dorchester fashioned an identical 29-21 halftime lead against Fairmont, and used better shooting in the second half to rapidly pull away. The Longhorns outscored Fairmont, 11-1, in the early minutes of the third period and were never headed.

Allen Papik, a 5-9 junior, triggered the second half surge by Dorchester as he came off the bench to score all 22 of his points after the intermission.

Terry Dalton, Bill Boller and Larry Bobolz were also in twin figures for Larry Ribble's well balanced club. The Longhorns did not appear to miss ailing 6-2 junior Ray Kastanek.

Rod Opfer, a 6-1 sophomore, was the bright spot for Fair mont, which closed 2-19, as he scored 16 points.

Barnston, Odell Weather Semis

. . . WITH EASY WINS

By DEAN TERRELL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Odell — Top-seeded Barnston streaked past Holmesville, 66-55, in class D semifinals Wednesday night, Odell having it even easier against Filley, 69-51.

Favored for its entering 9-8 record in a relatively weak district, Barnston managed margins in each quarter and built to 49-40 starting the finale.

The Indians' last real trouble had been midway in the second as Holmesville overtook at 19-17 for a lead lasting but seconds.

With more all-round finesse apparent, coach John Schultze' club broke three men into double figures and still used the bench considerably. Denton Stitt and Kenny Leseberg, both well under 6-foot, impressed most with 20 and 17 points.

Holmesville, somewhat erratic but always the pusher, was paced by 5-4 sharpshooter Don Rouse and 19 counters. Teammate Ken Frerichs accounted for 15 from a loftier 6-2 height, Don Vetrovsky garnering 12.

Coach Vern Aylor's Odell hosts not only assured themselves a Friday night finals berth, but put down Filley for the second time in three meetings. A hefty opening punch proved the decisive factor.

Tied at 6-6, the game took on vastly different character when Odell spurted for 10 points before the Wildcats scored again. By intermission it was a comfortable 35-19, and after the third frame, 50-35.

Trouble could have come when Alan Adam, 16-pointer and probably the smoothest player on the court, fouled out late in the third period. Regular Don Bergmeier was out two minutes later, but the Tigers took the losses in stride.

Ron Spitsnogle chose the last quarter for nine of his 15 counters, and soph Darrell Vitosh held together to total the same. Big Gilbert Oltman was Filley's leader at 19, Jim Weyers adding 14.

St. Bonn Cracks Canisius, 79-62

Olean, N.Y. (AP) — NCAA-bound St. Bonaventure, fourth-ranked nationally, won its 20th straight basketball game of the season Wednesday night, downing Canisius 79-62 on the fine combination of Bill Butler and Bob Lanier.

Butler, a 6-foot-3 senior forward, paced the undefeated winners with 27 points and tied George Carter for third place on the St. Bonaventure all-time scoring list with 1,323 points.

Lanier snared 23 rebounds, breaking the schools season record. He's grabbed 232 this campaign.

Wayne Clubs Peru, 100-67

Wayne (AP) — The largest crowd ever to pack Rice Gym saw Wayne State avenge an early season defeat by topping Peru, 100-67.

Wayne officials estimate 3,000 saw Wayne wind up its conference and season schedule and become a certain choice for the NAIA district playoffs.

Wayne led all the way behind a 25-point effort of Bob Strathman. Peru handed Wayne one of its two defeats this year at Peru by two points. It also was Wayne's only Nebraska College Conference loss against seven victories.

Wayne shot 59 per cent, Peru 36 per cent.

North Carolina Routs Maryland

Chapel Hill, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina's Rusty Clark scored 27 points and set a school rebounding record to lead the third-ranked Tar Heels to an easy 83-60 victory over Atlantic Coast Conference rival Maryland Wednesday night.

Clark, a 6-10 center, pulled down 27 rebounds to break Billy Cunningham's previous record of 24 set against Maryland in 1964.

The Tar Heels had little difficulty, despite a poor shooting record of only 37 per cent. They went ahead after a 5-5 tie in the opening minutes and never lost the advantage.

The Maryland team, which shot only 36 per cent, was outmaneuvered by Clark under the boards and collected only 48 rebounds compared to North Carolina's 68.

Mrs. King Rips Indoor Net Foe

Winchester, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., opened her quest for a third straight U.S. Women's Indoor tennis title Wednesday with a quick victory at the Winchester Tennis Center.

The 24-year-old Wimbledon and U.S. outdoor champion needed little more than one-half hour to blitz Rollins College freshman Jade Schiffman of Riverdale, N.Y., 6-0, 6-0.

Esme Emanuel of Johannesburg, South Africa, the No. 2 foreign seed, was in difficulty all the way but staved off Texan Emilie Burrer 6-4, 7-9, 6-3 in the hardest first-round match encountered by a ranked player.

Miss Burrer, a junior at Trinity University in her hometown of San Antonio, Tex., was all over the court in her bid to upset Miss Emanuel, who attends Mississippi State University. Miss Emanuel's greater experience seemed to pay off at the end of the exciting match.

Third-seeded Rosemary Casals, a quick 19-year-old San Franciscan, had a good workout against Mrs. Carole Herrick of Arlington, Va., in winning 6-4, 7-5. Rosemary lost the first three games of the match.

Mrs. King received a bye in the first round, so her second round victory advanced her into the quarter-finals scheduled to be played Friday.

St. Benedict's Pounds Pershing

Beatrice (AP) — St. Benedict's used its height in controlling the boards and won going away over John J. Pershing College, 99-78, Wednesday night.

The Generals jumped to a five-point lead early in the contest before the Kansas club came back to fashion a 49-39 halftime advantage.

St. Benedict's is now 19-5 for the season; Pershing is 9-11.

Lincoln Among Jr. Golf Cities

San Francisco (AP) — A golf course exclusively for boys and girls in Lincoln was among 278 new regulation golf courses opened last year, the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America was told Wednesday.

This brings the total of golf courses to nearly 9,000, Harry C. Eckohoff of the National Golf Foundation reported to the 3,000 superintendents.

Bangor, Maine, also has a new course for boys and girls only.

Other courses for juniors only are at Minneapolis, Syracuse, N.Y. and Hershey, Pa.

Orioles' Rookie Mound Star Signs For 1968

Miami (AP) — Tom Phoebus, the American League rookie pitcher of the year in 1967, signed his 1968 contract with the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday.

Phoebus, who logged a 14-9 record last year and led the Oriole pitching staff in victories, reportedly accepted an offer of $17,000, which would be a 50 per cent raise.

Stock Prices Rise In Active Trading

New York (AP)—The stock market surprised many Wall Streeters Wednesday by staging a strong advance despite its usual tendency toward caution prior to a holiday. Trading was active.

Blue chips gave popular averages a good boost on the eve of Washington's Birthday when exchanges will be closed. Many will turn it into a four-day weekend although markets will be open Friday.

In view of the tense military situation in Vietnam many traders were expected to even up their positions as a precaution against the chance of bad news when the markets are closed. There wasn't enough of this balancing of gains against losses to spoil a substantial rise.

Of 1,463 issues traded, 778 rose and 471 fell. New highs for 1967-'68 totaled 29 and new lows 22.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 2.4 to 310.4 with industrials up 4.1, rails up .8 and utilities up .3.

Despite the over-all strength in the market, gain outnumbered losses by only 8 to 7 among the 15 most active stocks.

Among the 30 Dow industrials, 21 rose, 7 fell and 2 were unchanged.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 3.78 million shares compared with 3.55 million Tuesday.

Grain Mart Hit By Liquidation

Chicago (AP) — Liquidation in a dull trading market sent grain and soybeans futures prices lower on the Chicago Board of Trade Wednesday.

Trade was mixed but buyers were scarce. There plainly was nothing in view to support any sustained buying move.

There was one factor that the trade belived might have had a bullish influence on corn and oats prices at the opening. The U.S. Department of Agriculture issues a report after the close of business Tuesday on the number of farmers who have signed up since Feb. 5 to divert feed grain acreage from this year's production.

The USDA said that the acreage so far diverted constituted about 43% of the hoped for total of 30 million acres. Since the 43% had been reached in the first two weeks, the trade reasoned that the closing three weeks might result in reaching or exceeding the WSDA diversion goal.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to ⅝ of a cent a bushel lower, March 1.48⅞-49; corn ⅛ to ⅝ lower, March 1.18⅛; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March 79⅛ cents; rye ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March 1.22⅞; and soybeans ⅛ to ⅜ lower, March 2.73⅝-¾.

Irishman Plans To Spend 61 Days In Buried Coffin

London (AP)—Irish bartender Mike Mealey, 33, donned his green pajamas, said "Farewell, Lads" and climbed into his custom-built coffin Wednesday — to spend two months in a grave.

Sean, Paddy and Mick were there, and all the other lads from the Irish community in Kolburn, north London, to wish Mike good health and send him off in the true tradition of the Irish wake.

Then they shouldered the wooden box that will be Mike's home for 61 days and bore him off to an eight-foot grave in a vacant lot nearby.

World Record Sought

W. C. Whitman stayed 45 days under South Carolina soil last year to establish what he claimed was a world record. But Mike believes another American stayed down 57 days "about 100 years ago."

"So I'll come up on the queen's birthday," said Mike. That's April 21.

Parade Planned

"It'll be a holiday. Half a million Irish will parade through the streets of Kolburn. He'll be famous."

Mike, married with a wife and baby son back in Ireland and another child expected in April should be comfortable in the coffin.

"It's lined with foam rubber three inches thick and has two holes. six inches in diameter, cut into the lid. One will be the entrance for food down a shaft. The other will supply fresh air.

Northern Gas Pushes Plant Investment Over $1 Billion

Omaha (AP) — Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha pushed its gross plant investment past $1 billion during 1967 and boosted per share earnings from operations to $3.94, compared with $3.42 in 1966, the annual report showed Wednesday.

Major construction included installation of nearly 1,700 miles of pipeline and gas service to 53 communities not previously served, bringing the total to 1,034 communities served by Northern through its 74 utility customers.

Income from operations for 1967 was $33,838,000 in the previous year.

The report also showed that for the seventh consecutive year Northern increased dividends on its common stock. Total dividends paid amounted to $2.45 per share. The indicated annual dividend rate is $2.60.

Negro Candidate For Governor

Raleigh, N.C. (AP) — Dr. Reginald A. Hawkins paid his $350 filing fee Wednesday and officially became the first Negro candidate for governor of North Carolina since the Reconstruction era.

Hawkins is a Charlotte dentist, United Presbyterian minister and civil rights leader. He faces Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and Raleigh attorney Mel Broughton in the May 4 Democratic primary.

In a brief news conference in the office of the North Carolina Board of Elections, where he paid his filing fee, Hawkins said racial affairs and poverty are North Carolina's most pressing problems.

Farmers Mutual Reports '67 Successful

Despite a 40% increase in paid losses, 1967 was a highly successful year for Farmers Mutual of Nebraska, President Dwight C. Perkins reported at the company's annual policyholders meeting.

Over 25,000 claims were handled during the year, he said, resulting in incurred losses and loss expenses of $4,217,160 as compared with $3,010,952 during 1966.

Perkins said that this increase was largely due to the greater frequency of wind and hail storms in Nebraska during the summer of 1967, as compared with the previous year. Farm fire and lightning losses declined about 16%, he said.

Admitted assets and direct premiums set new records during 1967. Assets rase to $13,863,502, an increase of 5.6% over 1966, and direct premiums written were $7,000,703, an increase of about 10%. Policyholders' surplus was $9,505,936 at the end of the year, he announced.

Mrs. Helen C. Calcaterra announced her decision to retire as executive vice president and secretary. She has been with the company 43 years and has served as secretary since 1951 and as executive vice president since 1957.

Edward A. Jiracek of Lincoln was elected a new member of the board of directors. Re-elected to the board were James N. Ackerman, Perkins and Frank Waggoner of Alma.

Hold-over directors are Glenn A. Buck, Mrs. Calcaterra, Jack M. Pace, Karl Schmitt and Francis D Straub.

Officers elected were Pace, executive vice president and general counsel; Jiracek, secretary; Russel D. Loerch, vice president (claims), and Leston G. Sorrell, vice president (sales).

Other officers are J. P. Curran, T. C. Mills and M. T. Mosena, assistant secretaries; C. C. Beideck, assistant treasurer; D. R. Finney, personnel director; B. L. Anderson and A. G. Schreiber, casualty claims superintendents, and T. N. Lowrey, data processing supervisor.

Music Workshop Set

Chadron — Dr. Harry E. Holmberg, chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at Chadron State College, has announced a music workshop for elementary teachers will be held at the Kline Campus Center on Saturday. Conducting the workshop will be Mrs. Nancy Pitz of Denver. Mrs. Pitz will introduce the Kodaly method of music education.

Lincoln Inventor William Frampton Dies At Age Of 68

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Roper and Sons' Mortuary, 4300 O St., for William L. Frampton, Lincoln inventor and musician, who died Tuesday at the age of 68.

Mr. Frampton, of 3103 S. 17th St., held patents on several of his inventions, including an irrigating machine now being manufactured in Colorado.

Mr. Frampton served in the U.S. Army during World War I.

A lifetime Lincoln resident, Mr. Frampton attended the University of Nebraska. He was the son of the late W. C. Frampton, a longtime Lincoln lawyer.

Surviving him are his wife, Margaret; sister, Miss Eleanor Frampton of Cleveland, Ohio, and cousin, George Frampton of Lincoln.

Rap Brown Jailed For Alleged Threat

New Orleans (AP)—H. Rap Brown, the wordy, militant Black Power crusader, was jailed Wednesday night after being charged with intimidating a Negro FBI agent by threatening: "We will get you . . . if you have any children, we will get them too."

Handcuffed, vowing to go on a hunger strike, he went to the Orleans Parish Prison in lieu of bonds totaling $100,000 to await a preliminary hearing on the intimidation charge Thursday.

Brown, 24, head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was advised of the complaint involving the FBI agent after a federal judge ordered him to forfeit $5,000 of a $15,000 bond he posted last September on a charge that he violated a federal firearms law.

California Visit

The judge ruled that Brown violated travel restrictions imposed in the old bond by traveling to California last weekend. He reset bond on the gun charge at $50,000.

Commissioner Fritz H. Windhorst advised Brown of the FBI's complaint and set an additional $50,000 bond for him, pending a preliminary hearing.

The complaint involved comments Brown made during a recess in the hearing to Special FBI Agent William H. Smith Jr., a Negro who had testified he saw Brown speaking in Los Angeles. It said Brown told Smith he had better get his hat because he (Brown) would beat him back to the coast.

Firearm Transportation

Brown was charged here last fall with violating the law against interstate transportation of firearms while under indictment.

Specifically, it says he took a .30-caliber rifle from New York to New Orleans and back while facing charges in Cambridge, Md., of arson and inciting to riot.

Last Monday, Mitchell ordered Brown arrested and brought to New Orleans for the bond forfeiture hearing because he spoke at rallies in California-Oakland and Los Angeles.

His movements, under terms of the bond, had been confined to Louisiana, New York and Atlanta, Ga., unless permission was given by the court.

Swiss Ministry Opens Official Hanoi Channel

New York Times Service

Geneva — Neutral Switzerland opened an official channel of communications with North Vietnam Wednesday in a move that could facilitate a Swiss attempt to help end the Vietnamese war.

While still maintaining diplomatic relations with South Vietnam, the foreign ministry announced the appointment of Oscar Rossetti, the Swiss ambassador to Communist China, as its representative to the North Vietnamese foreign ministry. Rossetti has just returned to Peking from a visit to Hanoi.

A Swiss television commentator said Wednesday night that until now Swiss policy had been pro-South Vietnamese, as demonstrated he said, by its recognition of Saigon.

With a representative to both governments, the commentator said, Switzerland has now taken a truly neutral position. He said this would facilitate Switzerland's task if she were asked to use her good offices to help achieve a peace settlement. The war between France and North Vietnam was ended by the 1954 conference held in Geneva.

Foreign ministry officials in Bern discouraged such speculation. They emphasized that Rossetti would continue to live in Peking and said that his additional duties did not constitute recognition of North Vietnam.

They added that Rossetti's visit to Hanoi last week was "humanitarian" — to check up on the $58,000 in medicines donated by Switzerland last year to the North Vietnam civilian population and appraise future needs.

However, diplomatic sources said that Rossetti's new status would facilitate future trips to Hanoi and would enable him to act more quickly if North Vietnam should accept Switzerland's long-standing offer to use its good offices in ending the war if all sides agreed.

Air Force Chiefs Urge Continued Bombing

Washington (AP) — Continued bombing in both North and South Vietnam was urged Wednesday by Air Force leaders as they asked Congress for nearly $29 billion to maintain and expand their forces in the next fiscal year.

Air Force Secretary Harold Brown said that in all bombing, "air crews have made every effort to avoid civilian casualties." Parts of his testimony before a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Committee were made available to newsmen.

In North Vietnam, Brown said U.S. aircraft have destroyed transportation facilities, harassed movement, disrupted local war production, destroyed military complexes and supplies and tied up approximately 600,000 men in air defense and the repair of transportation routes.

"In the absence of our bombing campaign, it is likely that North Vietnam could have further increased its aid to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam," the secretary said.

Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, also stressed the plea for continued bombing in North Vietnam.

"We have created critical logistic and manpower problems for the enemy," the general said.

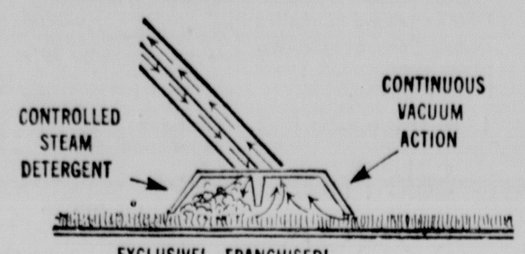
B52s Increased In Southeast Asia

Saigon (UPI) — The United States has added about two dozen B52 bombers to its Southeast Asian force and increased their missions against the Ho Chi Minh Trail, informed sources said Wednesday.

The giant Stratofortresses, which can carry up to 30 tons of bombs each, have flown 120 missions against Communist buildups around the U.S. Marine outpost at Khe Sanh during the past month.

The informed sources said the addition of the B52s came about three weeks ago and brought the total number of Stratofortresses flying out of Guam and Thailand to approximately 70.

THERE IS A REASON WHY YOUR CARPETS STAY CLEAN LONGER WHEN CLEANED WITH THE DEEP STEAM EXTRACTION METHOD!



EXCLUSIVE! FRANCHISED!
